CREAGER LOSES IN LIBEL SUIT

METHODISTS REVISE MARRIAGE SERVICE

MRS. BRADY FINAL WITNESS IN TRIAL HUSBAND

SERVE AND OBEY ELIMINATED FROM SERVICE THURSDAY

PRESENT UNWRITTEN LAW FOUR YEARS FOR PRESIDING ELDERS RETAINED

DALLAS, May 15.—(AP)—Striking the words "serve" and "obey" from the marriage ceremony, enlarging the charges up which a minister may be charged, and retaining the present unwritten limitation of four years on the terms of presiding elder, the quadrennial conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, settled down today to a steady grind of work.

Delegates interpreted the memorial enlanging the ministerial misconduct charges as the most important legislation of the day. It would prove that when charges of immorality are brought and cannot be substantiated, the minister may be found guilty of gross impropriety or highly unministerial conduct with the punishment a reprimand, suspension or expulsion.

Before adoption of the memorial, the only charges upon which a minister could be tried were im-

HONOR JANE ADDAMS

Jane Addams, founder of Hull House, famous Chicago settlement center, who was feted by notables and just plain folks on the occasion of the fortieth anniversary of the founding of the institution. With her is shown Barbara Navigato, one of the young visitors at the settlement. Many of the country's most famous educators, business executives, musicians, artists and social workers attended the celebration.

CLANDESTINE LOVE AFFAIR REVEALED; TESTIMONY CLOSED

WIFE OF MAN CHARGED IN MURDER OF GIRL PRINCIPAL WITNESS FOR DEFENSE

DALLAS, May 15.—(AP)—Both the state and the defense closed conditionally in the John W. Brady murder case here today, it was announced after court had recessed at noon and attorneys for both sides had held a conference.

DALLAS, May 15.—(AP)—Forcing an occasional smile through her tears, Mrs. John W. Brady took the stand in her husband's murder trial here today and sobbed out a story of a clandestine love affair between her husband and Miss Lehlia Highsmith whom he stabbed to death in Austin last November.

Mrs. Brady testified that this affair had wrecked her home and had transformed her husband from a once brilliant jurist and lawyer to a man of unsound mind.

At the end of Mrs. Brady's testimony, the defense closed its case on condition that they might rebut any further evidence the state might offer.

Silence fell over the packed courtroom as the wife of the defendant took a seat on the witness stand. Newspaper reporters were instructed to halt their operations at the press table.

She was shaking noticeably and nervously fingered her wedding band as Defense Attorney Ted Monroe asked her when she married Brady. She gave her age as 52 and that of the defendant as 60 and said they were married 20 years ago. She was dressed in a black silk coatsuit and wore a close-fitting straw hat.

Mrs. Brady said she met her husband 20 years ago when he was a law partner with John Peeler in Austin. She was working in the office at the time. Peeler is one of Brady's attorneys.

Husband Was Kind

"Has your married life been happy?" she was asked.

HIGH WATERS BRING NEED OF RELIEF TO ATTENTION OFFICIALS

NEED OF TRESTLES-BRIDGES SHOWN AS CORSICANA COMPLETELY MAROONED

The need of trestles and high bridges in all directions from Corsicana was forcefully brought out by high waters during the present and past week when the Navarro county capital was marooned, due to high water. It is thought that Corsicana is one of the few towns of its size that is surrounded by streams that block all highway traffic in flood time. On the north and east, it is necessary to cross Chambers creek, and on the west and south Richland creek is encountered. Both streams are big affairs when on flood stage.

State highway engineers are of the opinion that during the present year, however, that all-weather crossings will be available out of Corsicana, both to the north, east and south, with the completion of the National Highway 75 bridges over Richland and Chambers creeks, and the bridge on Chambers creek on State Highway 31 east of Corsicana.

According to the engineers' estimates, the bridge on State Highway 31 on Chambers creek between Corsicana and Powell will cost, including the approaches and abutments, approximately $150,000. This is considerably in excess of the grading and other drainage structures on the 9.3 miles of road from Corsicana to the eastern boundary of Consolidated Road District No. 1, east of Powell. The contract for the grading of the State Highway 31 east of Corsicana and all the drainage structures except the Chambers creek bridge, is $110,533.-77.

All Weather Route East.

State highway engineers are working on the proposition of securing an all-weather route on State Highway 31 westward from Corsicana to Waco. The present routing of State Highway 31 via Ward Bridge on Richland creek and the Pursley slab, will not be the permanent site. The state highway engineers have re-routed Highgway 31 and it will proceed

Expect Cannon to Stand Trial Before General Conference

DALLAS, May 15.—(AP)—A prominent member of the general conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, said today that the Episcopacy committee of the conference last night decided that Bishop James Cannon, Jr., of Washington, D. C., should be brought to trial for his speculations on the stock market.

Members of the committee, sworn to secrecy, declined to deny or affirm the report, which was given credence because of the source.

It had been believed that the final vote on the matter would not be taken until tomorrow's meeting, which was decided upon as the committee adjourned late last night.

No information could be obtained as to when the committee would present its report.

DALLAS, May 15.—(AP)—Exonerated of charges of undue political activity in the 1928 campaign, Bishop James Cannon, Jr., of Washington, D. C., today still faced complaints signed by more than a score of delegates to the general conference, Methodist Episcopal Church, South, that he speculated on the stock market.

Nearly six hours of deliberation by the Episcopacy committee failed to clear Bishop Cannon of the charges. Three hours in the afternoon, and forty-five minutes at night, Cannon was on the witness stand. Much of the time, he was known to have spent in reading papers, presumably in reply to the photostatic documents presented by Judge G. T. Fitzhugh of Memphis, purporting to be records of his stock market transactions.

After Bishop Cannon left the committee room, the committee spent nearly two hours discussing his case. The sole accomplishment of that session was a two paragraph statement which placed the committee definitely on record as supporting the political activities of "five bishops." The committee will not meet again until Friday.

Of these five, only four—Cannon, Mouzon, Moore and Dubose—were known to have been charged by the Rev. Rembert G. Smith of Washington, Ga. Since the proceedings of the committee are kept in as much privacy as a grand jury's records, it was not possible to ascertain the name of the fifth, but it was recalled that the Rev. Mr. Smith's book attacking Cannon had named a fifth bishop as one of the "four horsemen" over whom Cannon was "Pope."

Cannon Still Reticent.

Bishop Cannon, although jocular, maintained his attitude of non-communicativeness toward the press. He declared he would make a statement at the "proper time" and that the "proper time would be when he was officially called upon for a statement.

Shortly after the afternoon session, Cannon told a friend at the hotel that he was tired but "ready to go back and face that gang tonight." His stamina brought praise from one member of the committee who declared "you could shoot that man through a dozen times and he'd never bat an eye." Although walking with a crutch, due to an injury in an automobile accident, Cannon declined help in climbing or descending the three flights of stairs leading to the committee room.

In the event the committee exonerates Cannon, the decision is final in so far as those charges are concerned. If the committee should order a trial, he will be tried before a jury of clerics, probably in executive session. This point, however, is not clear, since there is no precedent, so far as could be determined, for trial of a bishop in the church.

J. A. Jones of the Western North Carolina conference added his name to the charges against Bishop Cannon, writing the chairman of the episcopacy committee that he wanted to be included as a protestant against the churchman's alleged market activities.

VERDICT RETURNED FOR DEFENDANTS IN HALF MILLION CASE

TEXAS REPUBLICAN LEADER'S LIBEL SUIT AGAINST COLLIERS NOT UPHELD

COURT HOUSE, Brownsville, May 15. (AP)—A jury in federal court here today returned a verdict in favor of the defendants, Crowell Publishing company and P. F. Colliers and Son's distributing company, in the $500,000 libel suit brought by R. B. Creager, republican national committeeman for Texas.

The committeeman based his suit on an article in Collier's Magazine "High Handed and Hell Bent" by Owen P. White, which dealt with the political situation in Hidalgo county and in which Creager's name was mentioned.

The case was given to the jury late yesterday.

During nine days testimony was heard concerning Hidalgo county and Creager's asserted political alliance with Sheriff A. Y. Baker's democratic administration, accused in the magazine article with bossing some 60,000 people.

Claimed Understanding

Most of the witnesses testified about political conditions, many testifying for Collier's that it was

BUILDING ORDER OF DAY IN FROST; HOMES REPAIRED

CONTINUED RAIN DELAYS OPENING OF SCHOOL UNTIL SOME FUTURE DATE

Building is the order of the day in the town of Frost that was wrecked by a tornado slightly over a week ago, and the sound of hammers resounds continually in the town during the daylight hours as the residents make permanent repairs on their homes.

Insurance adjustments are being made daily, and additional work starts each day. Some of the homeowners have razed the remains of their homes to the ground, and are building anew, while a dozen or more are reroofing their homes, and making other repairs.

Building in the business district is being postponed until the city planning committee appointed on Wednesday night by the city council can make its report, and until the property lines for the widened main street can be established. Several merchants are reported ready to rebuild as soon as the line is dedicated.

"It hurt a lot, but we are building a better place," was the comment of one merchant as he discussed building and the havoc of the tornado. And the same spirit typifies the entire community.

The spirit of optimism increased Wednesday after the conclusion of the conference between J. C. Winfield, assistant traffic manager of the Cotton Belt, and representatives of the city government and the chamber of commerce at Frost, and of the Corsicana chamber, concerning the securing of a special freight rate on merchandise into Frost, particularly on building materials.

School Opening Delayed.

Continued rains have prevented the opening of the schools again.

AMERICAN HIGH OFFICERS OF NAVY DIFFER ON VALUE OF NEW TREATY OF LONDON

WASHINGTON, May 15.—(AP)—While one American admiral was praising the London naval treaty today before a senate committee, another told a second committee that he could see several objections to it.

Taking the treaty section by section, Rear Admiral Hilary P. Jones, one of the patriarchs among naval officers and himself an adviser to the American delegation to London, told the foreign relations committee that, among other things, the new classification of cruisers into six inch and eight inch ships "is contrary to the consistent policy we have maintained always heretofore."

He likewise criticized the the battleship provision, saying that France and Italy, who had been parties to the Washington treaty but not to the limitations of the London pact, would not be restricted, and adding thath while "it does not particularly affect us, I wonder what effect it may have if Great Britain feels alarmed by building by France and Italy."

The speed of 20 knots allowed for the unlimited class of ships also was opposed by Jones. He said this speed "will make very formidable any commerce raider or anti-submarine craft particularly in the Pacific or in the Mediterranean."

Jones followed Secretary Adams on the stand. Meantime before the senate naval committee Admiral Fratt, commander of the battle fleet was declaring that the United States "went into this conference with no assets at all so far as cruisers were concerned," and "got the best agreement possible."

STATE DEPARTMENT OPPOSED TO MEXICAN IMMIGRATION BILL

WASHINGTON, May 15.—(AP)—Opposition of the state department to the Harrix Box bill for restriction of Mexican immigration was registered before the house immigration committee today by Undersecretary Cotton.

He said the bill, which was passed by the senate yesterday, would do "no actual good" and might have an adverse effect on relations with Mexico.

Citing figures showing a "progressive reduction" in the number of Mexicans coming into this country in the past few weeks, Cotton said the bill would "keep out 1,000 Mexicans a year."

The measure would place Mexican immigration under the quota system with an annual limit of between 1,200 and 1,900.

IMMUNIZATION IN DIPHTHERIA CASES MAY BE SIMPLIFIED

CHICAGO, May 15.—(AP)—In the opinion of Dr. Arnold H. Kegel, city health commissioner, and Benjamin M. Gasul of the University of Illinois, the use of serum injections as a diptheria immunizing agent may soon be supplanted by an ointment.

After making tests on 47 school children, Drs. Kegel and Gasul reported to the Chicago medical society last night that they had obtained 60 per cent efficiency with the ointment developed by Prof. E. Yowenstein of Vienna.

Dr. Kegel emphasized, however, that the ointment should not be used in practice until 90 per cent efficiency had been reached, making it equal to the effectiveness of the serum and needle. Research to reach that effectiveness has been started, the health commissioner said.

Prof. Yowenstein's ointment was described as a compound of diphtheria toxin modified by the addition of formaldehyde and dead diphtheria bacilli.

The health commissioner explained that the present method caused the body to produce an anti-toxin, whereas the new ointment is in itself an anti-toxin. At Dr. Kegel's request, Dr. Gasul went to Austria to study the ointment.

KILLED AT CROSSING.

MIDLAND, May 15.—(AP)—Dock Wesson, about 50, was killed this morning when he drove his truck on to railroad tralks in front of a train.

Arguments Start in Trial of Trapper

VICTORIA, May 15.—(AP)—Arrangements were in order today in the murder trial of P. F. Robidoux, 58, Guadalupe river muskrat trapper charged in the double slaying of James and Willett Moore, two brothers of Seadrift. The brothers were slain the night of Dec. 11, 1928, while on a hunting trip to Kenyon Island.

Robidoux entered a plea of self-defense. The state rested its case yesterday after offering the testimony of eight witnesses. The defense called six witnesses.

No Decision In Love Mandamus Suit Thursday

AUSTIN, May 15.—(AP)—Associate Justice William Pierson of the supreme court stated that no decision would be rendered today in the mandamus suit brought by Senator Thomas B. Love of Dallas to compel the state democratic executive committee to certify his name on the ballot in the July primary election as a candidate for governor.

He indicated, however, the decision may be forthcoming yet this week.

Justice Pierson, who also is a member of the special supreme court trying the mandamus action brought by former Governor James E. Ferguson, stated that an opinion in this case probably will be rendered next week.

FROST RELIEF FUND

Citizens of Corsicana and adjacent areas had subscribed the sum of $16,474.53 to the Frost Relief Fund, according to figures totaled at the Daily Sun office at 1:30 p. m. Thursday.

According to Red Cross officials who have come from National headquarters and taken complete charge of the relief work in this area, and who have practically completed a survey of the damage and the needs of the people in the tornado district of Frost and adjoining territory, there will be need of at least $200,000 for the work of rehabilitation or placing the victims of the storm in position where they will be able to fight their own way back to a semblance of their former prosperity and happiness. Not a penny is being wasted as experienced disaster relief workers, who are paid by the National Red Cross, are in charge and will see that the money is placed where it will do the most good.

On Tuesday Governor Moody issued a second proclamation calling on the people of the State of Texas to contribute more liberally to the relief funds for the storm victims in the devastated areas of Navarro, Hill and McLennan counties. This proclamation was due to the fact that a survey showed the need of increased funds and that the damage had been much greater than at first believed. The citizens of the State were urged to furnish the Red Cross with funds at once for their reconstruction and rehabilitation work. The call was issued in response to an appeal made to the Governor by Mayor R. L. Wheelock of Corsicana and William M. Baxter, Jr., of St. Louis, National director of Red Cross Relief.

All funds received at the Sun office are being deposited at the First National Bank where the money is immediately put at the disposal of the relief workers. Those desiring to make contributions to this fund are requested to mail or bring their checks to the Sun office.

Following is a list of additional contributors not heretofore published:

W. C. Caldwell, $2.50; Eureka Methodist church, by I. R. Darwood, pastor, $31.28; J. M. May, $10; Navarro, Texas high school, $10.75; J. S. Millerman, $5; Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Smith, $10; Robert Jarrett, San Diego, Cal., $50; C. C Owen, $2; O. A. Owen, $2.50

BRAZOS RIVER AT WACO EXPECTED TO INUNDATE PARTS EASTERN SECTION OF CITY

(By Associated Press)

Subsidence of flood waters of the Trinity river was expected to set intoday, offering the principal hope of relief to persons marooned in flooded lowlands near Dallas.

At Waco, American Legion members and Waco police stood ready to assist East Wacoans in moving from their homes should the Brazos river flood that section of the city.

The Brazos was reported last night as still rising there, lacking only five feet of the 29-foot level which would send it raging across lowlands east of Waco.

Waters from both Bosque rivers which run into Lake Waco above the city here being held in the lake to protect a bridge at the lower end of the reservoir which had not been completed.

Buildings and crops were damaged by a hail storm which late yesterday pelted the Schwertner community in the northern edge of Williamson county, near Temple.

At Dallas, Lieut. Harry Weddington, executive officer of the 366th observation squadron said last night he would attempt today to land a plane on an island of high ground in the flooded Trinity valley above Dallas, where a number of persons were marooned.

Temple Youth Drowned

TEMPLE, May 15.—(AP)—The 12-year-old son of Cullin Hallman, farmer living near here, was drowned yesterday in Little Elm creek when carried away by high waters, as he was fishing. The body was alone at the time.

Missouri Bank Robbed of All Cash In Place

ST. CHARLES, Mo., May 15.—(AP)—Three young men held up three employees in the St. Charles savings bank today and robbed the depository of approximately $16,900, all the cash the bank had except a few pennies.

MISS MADDOX ELIMINATED.

GREENSBORO, N. C., May 15.—(AP)—Miss Margaret Maddox of Atlanta, defending champion, was eliminated from the women's Southern golf tournament today by Miss Anne Kennedy of Tulsa, Okla., who won the quarter-final match two and one.

Miss Collett Wins Way Into British Finals

FORMBY, May 15.—(AP)—Glenna Collett won her way to the final of the British woman's golf championship today by defeating Enid Wilson, one up.

The American champion holed an eight-foot putt for a birdie three to win the 18th hole and the match. Both semi-finalists played well, Miss Collett having a medal score of 79 for the round while Miss Wilson scored 82.

Miss Collett will oppose Miss Diana Wishwick in a 36-hole final match for the championship tomorrow.

Miss Fishwick this afternoon defeated Miss Kathleen MacDonald, Scotland, with comparative ease, five up and four to play.

President Roy of Haiti Inaugurated

PORT-AU-PRINCE, Haiti, May 15.—(AP)—Eugene Roy, selected for temporary president of Haiti during the recent Hoover commission survey here, was inaugurated shortly before nine o'clock this morning without incident.

Mr. Roy, who is 69 years old and is an independent in politics, succeeds President Louis Borno, who finished an eight year term today.

SOUTHWEST AREA CONTINUES VICTIM UNRULY ELEMENTS

HEAVY HAIL IN PARTS OKLAHOMA; WIND DAMAGE AT ALEDO WAS HEAVY

(By The Associated Press.)

One person was drowned and thousands of dollars damage to farming land, highways, railroads and other properties caused by terrific rain and wind storms that swept sections of Texas Monday and Monday night.

Near Fort Worth, Junior Mc Burnett, six-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Burnett, was snatched from his mothers arms by raging waters of Sycamore creek after she had decided to abandon her home on account of the rising stream. The body was recovered Tuesday morning.

The greatest property damage apparently was at Aledo, Parker county, where a terrific wind demolished two residences, lumber yard, a cotton gin and a vacant store building and unroofed a number of other structures. The loss there was estimated at $50,000.

Around Palmer, Ellis county, more than four inches of rain fell, causing the destruction of hundreds of acres of crops and damaging highways and railroad lines.

Rainfall measuring one half to five inches swept over the Panhandle. Hail fell in some sections. Shamrock had two inches. However, rain and hail was reported to have benefitted crops to some extent in Gray county, offsetting any damage done.

More than a half inch of rain fell in the vicinity of Wichita Falls. Light hail was reported near Haskell.

Gregg county had a 2.01 inch rainfall. Texas and Pacific and International Great Northern trains were rerouted. Washouts were reported at Forney and Lawrence on the Texas and Pacific.

Southern Pacific Damaged.

Brushy and Red Oak creeks were raging torrents, the latter being two miles wide north of Palmer. A thousand feet of track on the main line of the Southern Pacific was washed out and trains from Houston were detoured into Dallas by way of Ennis and Fort Worth.

In Dallas a three-inch downpour was estimated to have caused $15,000 damage to streets, residences and other property. One house was washed from its foundation and police were called to rescue persons marooned in their homes by waters from swollen streams and over-taxed drainage facilities.

Traffic was interrupted in Houston for a time in some parts of the city by torrential rain of 3.15 inches, more than one inch of which fell in about two hours.

Five inches of rain was reported to have fallen at Blum in Hill county. A light shower fell at Borger Tuesday after a damaging hail and rain Monday.

DALLAS, May 13.—(AP)—Hail storms and torrential rains, doing great damage to crops, have accompanied devastating winds in parts of the Southwest.

Eight counties of Northwestern Oklahoma were swept by hail storms last night. Leaves were stripped from trees, livestock injured, and homes damaged.

Reports from Woods, Alfalfa, Woodward, Grant, Roger Mills, Dewey, Major and Custer counties told of ruined crops, hammered into the ground by hail. The storm was accompanied by a deluge of rain which varied from one to three inches throughout the storm area. From Aledo, Tex., early today came word of probable damage of more than 50,000, caused by wind.

Two residences, a lumber yard, a cotton gin and an empty store building were demolished by the storm.

High water also is causing alarm. Near Fort Worth, Tex., Junior McDurmett, 7, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. G. McDermett was drowned. The boy was swept from his mother's arms while she was carrying him from waters of Sycamore creek, swollen by heavy rains, which had invaded their farm.

SWEETWATER, May 13.—(AP)—Hail accompanied an inch rain here last night doing considerable damage to buildings. Windows were broken, roofs beaten in and automobile tops smashed. The downpour was reported general north and east of here.

PALMER, May 13.—(AP)—A four-inch downpour, the heaviest rain in this section in 25 years, fell last night, causing the destruction of hundreds of acres of crops and damaging highways and railroad lines.

Brushy and Red Oak creeks were raging torrents, the latter being two miles wide north of here. A thousands feet of track on the main line of the Southern Pacific was washed out and trains were detoured into Dallas by way of Ennis and Fort Worth.

Water was several feet over the Dallas-Corsicana highway.

DALLAS, May 13.—(AP)—Property damage estimated at $15,000 was caused here last night by a three-inch downpour that swelled streams over a number of sections.

One house was washed from its foundation and police were called to rescue persons marooned in their homes by the sudden rise in the streams and overtaxed drainage facilities.

Parts of Fort Worth Flooded

FORT WORTH, May 1.—(AP)—Monday night's rain, measuring 4 inches, sent Trinity river and Lake Worth on a rapid rise and flooded several sections of the city.

At 9.30 today, Trinity river measured 26.5 feet and was rising. The danger line is 30 feet and normal 6.5 feet.

Police closed the Purvis road bridge between Arlington Heights and the north side and the bridge between Riverside and the Fort Worth- Dallas pike. Many cars were reported stalled in this vicinity.

A severe hail and windstorm struck southern sections of the city at 9.30 p. m., Monday stripping fruit trees of fruit and ruining gardens.

ENID, Okla. May 13.—(AP)—A destructive hail storm almost entirely ruined the wheat crop in a strip varying from five to seven miles in width from Alva, Woods county, to Lamont, Grant county, reports received here today indicated.

Roofs of buildings in Pond Creek were badly damaged, and most of the window lights on the south and west sides of buildings were broken. Many stocks of merchandise were damaged by water.

Council of League Names Commission On Wailing Wall

GENEVA, May 15.—(AP)—The Council of the League of Nations adjourned today after approving the personnel for a special commission which will study the historic problem of the wailing wall in Jerusalem, so often the center of dispute between Jews and Arabs.

The commissioners are M. Eiel Loefgren, former Swedish foreign minister; Charles Bards, Swiss jurist, and Maynheer von Kempen, Dutch colonial official.

It was understood the Franco-Italian negotiations on the naval problem, which began here this week, will be continued through the regular diplomatic channels.

FORMER NAVARRO COUNTY RESIDENT NOW IN CALIFORNIA

The following letter received by E. L. Green from his brother, Geo. who is now making his home in Northern California, will be of interest to the writer's many friends in Navarro county:

Scotia, Humbolt Co., Cal.
May 1, 1930.

Dear Ed and family:

I will write to all at the same time. I am well and have been at work ever since I've been here with the exception of a few rainy days. Royce, Pearl and Billie are well and doing fine out here.

California is a great country, some of the grandest scenery I ever saw in this great redwood country. I was in Eureka a few days ago with Royce and Pearl and they took me all over town, about the size of Corsicana. One one street was a redwood stump with two doors leading into a room of considerable size, then a section of the log on end then forty feet of the log is furnished and occupied by a family selling curios. The log is 12 feet high, what a monster. Tomorrow we are going to see the largest of them all. Six feet from the ground, this tree measures 78 feet around. One day we spent in the redwoods on Red Wood highway and one tree that claimed my attention, measured 278 feet to the first limb. Many of them are over 300 feet high and there are more trees to the acre than any timber I ever saw.

This is a great dairy and fruit country, especiall Eel Valley where Royce lives. There are countless herds of milch cows, many of them valued at $500 to $1,000 per head. Thousands of sheep but very few hogs or mules; some good horses. There are fine orchards of apples, cherries, plums and pears, then strawberries, loganberries, black and dewberries, also English walnuts and all the trees loaded with their different fruit.

Improved land in this valley is selling for $1,000 per acre up.

Standing on Royce's doorstep, you see mountains on three sides, clothed in a carpet of green, with soft fleecy clouds or fog, floating over them and the sides all bathed in golden sunshine.

We went riding one evening this week, taking a mountain road, which for a long distance was only wide enough for one car with a drop of hundreds of feet from the edge. The scenery was simply grand. We passed through Dhonerville, a nice little mountain town, Scotia, Dell, Loleta, Ferndale, Bridgedale and Fortuna, where Royce lives.

Royce gets his vacation June 1st, two weeks. He plans to go to Oregon then to San Francisco, Los Angeles and other places. They want me to go with them, and I want to if I can arrange work so I can leave.

Yesterday I went to Eureka, county seat of Humbolt county. We visited the lighthouse on the Pacific. Standing there I felt the good Lord was indeed pouring out his blessings on me, as I gazed on this mighty body of water, stretching out thousands of miles, clear as a crystal, on one side, and the mountains and valleys with their heavy carpet of grass, dotted with fine ranch buildings and scattered over with cattle and sheep, making a picture no artist could paint.

Now Ed there isn't any cotton or corn raised here; too cool for cotton, temperature from 26 to 52 above. You sleep under the same number of blankets the year round. There are on mosquitoes, few flies and no rattlesnakes here. Most vegetables do fine here, especially in winter. Strawberries are ripe and such a crop. This is a great country, no talk of hard times, wages good and everyone busy.

Mr. Simmons of Fortuna is going to take me out on the Pacific fishing, he has a launch. We may take a hunt in the mountains. There are plenty of deer, bear and mountain lions. It will be a trip of 150 miles. Will tell you more in my next letter.

Love to all,
GEORGE T. GREEN.

WATERS RECEDING IN LARGE CREEKS NAVARRO COUNTY

High waters in Navarro county are receding and normal traffic is expected to be resumed over the roads Friday. Chambers creek on the Roane and Kerens roads was still holding up traffic but was going down.

Richland creek is still over the road between Corsicana and Dawson, but automobiles were crossing Thursday afternoon.

Chambers creek was 6 or 7 feet over the pavement on the Roane road Wednesday. Guide posts that are five feet high were completely covered and it was estimated that water was from one to two feet over them. This is the highest that the creek has been in several years.

There has been some traffic over the road to Emhouse. The new concrete slab has been opened from the airport to the country club, it is being used.

MEXIA, May 15.—(Spl.)—Securing deeds to right of way along the new routing of Highway No. 14 from Groesbeck to Kosse has been started. The new route will climinate two hazardous grade crossings.

The state is to grade and pave the new road, abandoning the old road which is graveled. The new road is west of the Southern Pacific tracks the entire distance from Groesbeck to Kosse.

DISTRICT CENSUS COUNT PRACTICALLY COMPLETE THURSDAY

Only a few enumerators have not finished their work in the sixteenth Texas census district composed of Navarro, Ellis, Limestone and Freestone counties, E. L. Dupuy, district supervisor, stated Thursday, but in several instances, the high waters and continued rains have seriously hampered the finishing up of the work.

The following census figures were announced by Mr. Dupuy Thursday:

Justice precinct 1, including Groesbeck, 7,552 in 1930, as compared with 6,292 in 1920, an increase of 1,230. There were 1,092 farms enumerated in this area. The number of farms in 1920 is not known.

Justice precinct 4, including Mexia and Tehuacana, Limestone county, 12,342 in 1930, as compared with 8,633 in 1920, a gain of 3,709. There were 883 farms enumerated in 1930, as compared with 1,117 in 1920, a loss of 234 farms.

Justice precinct 8, including Thornton, Limestone county, 4,010 in 1930, as compared with 3,782 in 1920, an increase of 228. There were 809 farms enumerated in 1930, as compared with 674 in 1920, an increase of 135 farms.

Justice precinct 5, including Blooming Grove, Frost and Purdon, Navarro county, 7,847 in 1930, as compared with 7,455 in 1920, an increase of 392. There were 1,519 farms enumerated in 1930, as compared with 1,037 in 1920, an increase of 122 farms.

Justice precinct 2, including Ferris and Palmer, Ellis county, 7,508 in 1930, as compared with 8,003 in 1920, a decrease of 495. There were 1,048 farms enumerated in 1930, as compared with 1,114 farms in 1920, a loss of 66.

Justice precinct 5, including Maypearl, Ellis county, 2,455 in 1930, as compared with 2,252 in 1920, an increase of 203. There were 402 farms in 1930, as compared with 293 in 1920, a gain of 109.

STATE MEETING OF SPANISH WAR VETS CLOSED TUESDAY

WACO, May 14.—After selecting San Antonio as the meeting place for 1931, electing officers and transacting other business of the day, the two-day meeting of the stated encampment of the department of Texas, United Spanish War veterans, adjourned shortly after noon Tuesday, having had one of the busiest sessions in their history.

Officers elected and installed for the department of Texas were: Commander, J. B. Derden, Fort Worth; senior vice commander, Henry Geyer, San Antonio; junior vice commander, M. W. Lusk, Galveston; chaplain, Rev. F. M. Brooks, Waco; surgeon, Dr. L. B. Stevens, Paris; marshal, Joe Pechal, Ennis; judge advocate, John B. Howard, El Paso; historian, E. Ross Chamblin, Dallas; inspector, William J. Condon, Dallas; patriotic instructor, Gave Cazell, San Antonio.

Previous to the vote the names of Frank S. Booher for commander, L. F. Meeks for vice commander, Park Heaton for chaplain were withdrawn by these nominees with the consent of those presenting their names.

Not a grievance or kick was registered at the meeting, as shown by the report of the grievance committee.

Greetings were extended in a telegram from the department of California, in session at Fresno, the telegram coming from Vice Commander John McCormick, formerly of Texas.

A. McWhirk of Dallas, now in a hospital at Alexandria, La., sent a telegram of good wishes to the gathering at Waco.

San Antonio Gets Session.

The veterans' organization made a donation of $100 to the ladies auxiliary, in session at the Hilton Hotel here, and supplemented this with $70 in cash from private gifts.

American Legion greetings from James Edmond Post, Waco, were extended by D. W. Bartlett, David R. Temple and Clint Allen, while John W. St. Clair of Fort Worth, member of Henry Terrell Camp, also president of the Red Cross there, brought greetings.

San Antonio and Harlingen both made a hard fight for the next meeting, the vote showing that San Antonio polled 39 votes and Harlingen 37, some delegates having left to catch outbound trains.

Officers were elected and installed by the woman's auxiliary, after which adjournment was had until 1931 in San Antonio.

The officers chosen were, state president, Lou Ella Allen, Ennis; senior vice president, Alice McMasters, El Paso; junior vice president, Helen Trieller, Dallas; chaplain, Blanche Spicer, Waco; patriotic instructor, Flora Spawn, Houston; historian, Helena Heigle, Dallas; inspector, Frances Brown, Galveston; conductor, Elizabeth Farrell; assistant conductor, Margaret Douglas; guard, Kate Scharfenberg, all three of San Antonio; assistant guard, Mary Derden, Fort Worth.

BAPTIST PLANNING LARGE BUDGET FOR ACTIVITIES 1931

SOUTHERN BAPTIST CONVENTION HEARS REPORTS AND RECOMMENDATIONS

NEW ORLEANS, May 15.—(AP)—The Southern Baptist convention began today's session with reports and recommendations up for consideration.

A budget of $3,000,000 was recommended by the executive committee for the next year's activities. In submitting the report, Austin Crouch, of Nashville, Tenn., said the budget had been framed in conference with representatives of all southwide agencies. The budget was divided as follows:

Foreign Mission Board, $1,500,000.

Home Mission Board (including $25,000 for New Mexico bonds), $725,000.

Relief and Annuity Board, $210,000.

Educational Board (handled by executive committee), $100,000.

Southern Baptist Theological Seminary, $100,000.

Southwestern Theological Seminary, $152,000.

Baptist Bible Institute, $110,000.

American Baptist Theological Seminary, $12,000.

New Orleans Baptist Hospital, $75,000.

ing School, $16,000.

The total goals set by the nearly a score of states and the District of Columbia for the year is $5,807,097.50.

Merger Plans Brought

NEW ORLEANS, May 15.—(AP)—O. L. Miller of Boston, president of the northern Baptists convention, today brought a message to the Southern Baptist convenion inviting proposals for the welding of the two bodies into one.

"The Northern Baptists would welcome overtures from the Southern Baptists looking toward a union of the two great bodies," said Mr. Miller. "The first step toward union, I believe, will be made in 1933, when the latter part of the Southern Baptists' convention will overlap the first part of the Northern Baptists' convention."

The convention adopted a report of a special committee on annuities and relief which provides that after the first of the year the annuity fund would be converted to the relief fund instead of 45 per cent for annuity and 55 per cent for relief.

FALL TERM CITY SCHOOLS TO OPEN MONDAY, SEPT. 15

The 1930-31 term of the Corsicana public schools will open Monday, Sept. 15, 1930, it was decided at a meeting of the Corsicana board of education at the high school Tuesday afternoon, H. D. Fillers, superintendent, announced Wednesday. The election of teachers, the adoption of several new text books, and matters pertaining to the summer school session were also settled at Tuesday's meeting.

Teachers for all public schools in Corsicana were elected, and it was decided to give them until May 26 to signify their acceptance or rejection of the positions.

Superintendent Fillers said that summer school will open on Tuesday, June 3, 1930, and will continue for a period of 8 weeks, or 40 actual school days, and will close in the middle of July. J. G. Willard, high school science instructor, was elected principal of the new summer session, and additional teachers were named as follows.

O. P. Douglas, Mary Holmes, Catherine Whitten, Glynn Mitchell, Elowee McKee, Mrs. Pearl Averyt, Lois McCartney, and Zeffie Hill. The teachers named will conduct classes in subjects ranging from the first through the high school grades. Mr. Fillers said the summer school is offered for students who have failed in one or more subjects and desires to make up their lost credits, and for those who wish to take advanced school work.

Upon the recommendation of a textbook committee composed of high school teachers several new books were accepted for five-year use in the English, history and geometry departments. Selections were made from a multiple list of five books in each subject that have been approved by the state board of education.

FATHER AND SON CONDUCT REVIVAL IN LOCAL CHURCH

The pastor, R. A. Crosby, and his son, Uel D. Crosby, of Childress, are conducting the series of services at the Eleventh Avenue Methodist church each night at 8 o'clock. Good crowds have attended both the young people's services at 7 p. m., and the preaching service at 8.

Committees have been at work since Sunday inviting the membership and friends to the services. The song service has been very fine with the entire congregation joining in the singing.

Special services will be announced from time to time. At the Tuesday night service, Rev. J. W. Copeland and son, Kenneth, were invited to the platform and with the pastor and his son, presented something out of the ordinary, two fathers and two sons, all preachers.

It is expected that the entire church will be revived and the membership added to. You are cordially invited.

K. Wolens Opens Two New Stores

K. Wolens announces the location of two new stores to be added to the present organization. These two new additions will be at Palestine and Kaufman. Plans call for modern store fronts and interiors. The store buildings are ample in size, having a frontage of 50 feet each and a depth of 125 feet, thus increasing the selling space by 12,500 square feet. The locations in both instances are in the heart of the two cities.

The managers and assistant managers will be selected from the men now employed and in training.

CONFLICTS CLOSED CAREER OF THE PRINCE OF PEACE

In Athmosphere of Antagonism, During His Last Days, Jesus Dealt Sternly With Pharisees and Priests—Definition of the Master Loyalties

By WILLIAM T. ELLIS.

Isn't it rather tragic that even the Prince of Peace could not escape strife? For most of His ministry, Jesus was surrounded by foes. During His last week He was in fierce conflict with the crowd that had determined to do Him to death.

Nor was the struggle one-sided. Throughout this closing week of His life, Jesus showed Himself to be the Lion of the Tribe of Judah, as well as the Lamb of God. His triumphal Entry had been a defiance and challenge to His foes. Knowing what awaited Him. He openly waged war with the priests and Pharisees. The twenty-third chapter of Matthew records the most terrific arraignment of a renegade ruling class ever made by orator of patriot.

No skulking, hiding, timorous object or terrorism was our Master; but a brave man and a fearless fighter for truth, undismayed by near and inevitable death. The sublime millitancy of those closing days of the Masters' mission puts iron into the blood, and courage into the heart of all who are enlisted under His flag. He showed men how to live and how to die.

The Flattery of Hypocrites.

Strong men are more displeased by the "jollier" than by the slanderer. Insincere flattery is an affront to one's self-respect. When the clever emissaries of His enemies came to Jesus with honeyed words of praise, He knew them for what they were. As Matthew reports, they had been sent by the Pharisees to entangle and ensnare Him in His talk. They were the witness by examination and cross-examination. They were not seekers after truth and light and justice, but pettifoggers and tricksters, with a dishonest cleverness in the use of catch-questions. Their insincere souls were their own damnation.

I am sorry for the man who has never enjoyed the luxury of telling a scoundrel that he is a scoundrel; of holding up the mirror of truth to a dishonest man's face. Jesus permitted Himself this privilege of sterling manhood. He was no mealy-mouthed mumbler of soft speech. When the cringing crooks came to Him, drooling fulsome phrases and professing an insincere eagerness to know a Jewish patriot's duty toward the Roman Government, Jesus blasted them with the scornful phrase, "Ye hypocrites!" Remember that, all ye jellyfish Christians who are afraid to call even the devil by his proper name. Our day's Chrisianity needs a baptism of the courage of Christ.

The Christian and the State.

Contemptuously, curtly, and by an object-lesson, as if dealing with dullard boys, the Master called for a coin.

"Whose is this image and superscription?"

"Caesar's."

"Render therefore unto Caesar the things which are Caesar's; and unto God the things that are Gods."

To that there could be no answer. Strange and simple as a sunbeam shone the truth that loyalty to the state and loyalty to God go hand in hand. They are not conflicting, but suplementary. Those who are true to the highest allegiances. Good men are also good citizens. Pillars of the nations have ever been the sober-minded persons who recognize that intelligent patriotism is a religious duty.

Christians are not slackers. Their spiritual sense sensitizes and supports their citizenship. Law-breakers do not come out of the churches and Sunday schools. In every tional emergency, it is the churches that are the first and main reliances of the State in promoting loyalty and high patriotism.

If, in these latter days, there have arisen within the ranks of religion a few noisy sentimentalists who are clamorous critics of their own nations, and propagandists of other nations, they are in no wise representative of the rank and file; for the latter cheerfully obey Christ's command to 'render unto Caesar the things which are Caesar's; and unto God the things that are God's. Democracy had its springs in Christianity; and their own self-made, self-imposed laws are obeyed by the friends of God, whatever pagan selfists may do.

Power For Patriotism.

Perhaps the bed-rock problem of good government in our time is how to create and maintain a moral passion of patriotism, which will ever put ahead of self-intest the welfare of the nation, and so of the world. Ours is the day of the cult of individualism. "Personal liberty" is the slogan of the restless and shortsighted and selfish, who have never learned to subdue an impulse to a principle. "Self-expression" and self-gratification are rampant doctrines; and they lead, as a moment's straight thinking shows, to the dissolving of democracy and to the advent of anarchy. Anybody can see that if each person is to obey his own whims and tastes and desires and convenience, then there can be left no common law, no master allegiance, no united well-being. Where concern for the common welfare, and solicitute for one's country are lacking as master motives, democracy simply cannot continue.

As surely as gasoline is needed to make an automobile go, so a social sense, or what may better be called a spiritual obligation, is required to provide power for the practice of patriotism. The patriot is one who thinks first of a unit greater than himself,—of his country and of his fellowmen. If he puts self first, he fails of his patriotism. Selfishness is the fundamental disloyalty. Let us get hold of this truth by the handle. For it is the basic principle of temperance and prohibition, before which the self-pleasing of those who would exalt a taste or an appetite into a life-sovereignty shrivels into pettiness.

Life's Highest Law.

Simple and strong was the teaching of Jesus. After the coin illustration of loyalty, the Master had occasion to confute another one of the pettifogging lawyers, by laying down, in explicit terms, the supreme law of life. He set forth the larger loyalties which should always govern his disciples; and in these principles we find the root of all social reform.

Setting a dialetic snare for the Teacher's feet, the Pharisee-lawyer, dissembling his hostility, asked, "Master, which is the great commandment in the law?"

Cutting boldly through all legalistic and theological enmeshments, Jesus replied, unequivocally and explicitly, "Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind. This is the first and great commandment. The second is like unto it, Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself. One these two commandments hang all the law and the prophets."

There we have life's working law, simply stated in the two allegiances—loyalty to God first,—of course, in order to stabilize and vitalize lesser loyalties—and then a loyalty to our fellowmen as real and active as loyalty to one's self. That is Christ's conception of a functioning social order. In these two major life-loyalties is wrapped up a power for moral passion; a concern for human welfare, a solicitude for one's own country; a sense of world-service.

In the light of this great pronouncement, self-indulgence, without regard to the rights of other men or to the right of God's sovereignty, becomes the great disloyalty. To "render unto God the things that are God's" calls for a display of His spirit of sacrificial love toward all of our fellows everywhere.

What this Doctor did for Humanity

As a young man the late Dr. R. V. Pierce, practiced medicine in Pennsylvania and was known far and near for his great success in alleviating disease. Finally he moved to Buffalo, N. Y., and put up in ready-to-use form, his GOLDEN MEDICAL DISCOVERY, the well-known tonic for the blood. This strength builder is made from a formula which Dr. Pierce found most effective when in private practice.

It aids digestion, acts as a tonic and enriches the blood—clears away pimples and annoying eruptions and tends to keep the complexion fresh and clear.

PLANS MADE FOR REBUILDING FROST METHODIST CHURCH

BUILDING FREE OF DEBT EXPECTED TO BE TURNED OVER TO PEOPLE THERE

The regular monthly meeting of the board of stewards of the First Methodist church met in the educational building Monday night with R. J. Jackson, chairman of the board, presiding. The roll was called by R. B. Mitchell, secretary, and W. E. Slaughter read the financial report, after which bills for the month were ordered paid.

John T. Fortson, chairman of the men's committee to help the Frost Methodist church rebuild, took the floor and called on Rev. A. W. Hall to make a statement of the matter. Dr. Hall stated that the idea was to take what insurance money there was coming, plus what the church board of extension would give, plus the amount of money raised outside of Frost and build the church, according to the amount of money raised and turn it over to the citizens of Frost free of debt. He said he would not agree to saddle a nickle's worth of debt for the church on the citizens of Frost. He also said that the Methodist minister was the only resident minister of Frost and as some 400 church people with a Sunday school of some 400 was without a single place to properly worship, that he hoped all speed would be used in raising money.

The board of stewards elected Boyce Martin to act as treasurer. All moneys to be given for this purpose can be left or mailed to Mr. Martin at the Daily Sun office. The bars were pulled down by the board and funds will be accepted and are solicited from all denominations. A contribution list will appear in the Daily Sun from time to time.

The board also appointed Dr. Hall to represent the First Church in presenting this matter to other Methodist churches throughout the state and if necessary speakers from First Church will be sent to the various churches to explain the matter in full and take offerings.

Manuel Gottlieb Wins Contest in A. & M. Speaking

B. Manuel Gottlieb, freshman at Texas A. and M. college, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sol Gottlieb of Corsicana, won the freshman speaking contest Tuesday night at A. and M. college, according to information received here Thursday.

Manuel is well-known and well-liked in Corsicana and took a prominent part in Corsicana high school student affairs while a student here.

RUMORED CHANGE IN SCHEDULE FOR INTERURBAN CARS

It is understood in Corsicana that the interstate commerce commission of Texas has granted the application of the Texas Electric Railway company for the discontinuance of three trains on the Corsicana-Dallas division, although no official announcement has been made by officials.

It is stated that instead of hurly arrival and departure of the electric cars here, it will be at one and one-half hour intervals.

The new schedule has not been announced and it is understood that the officials of the railway company are working out a new schedule arrangement.

Three round-trips daily will be discontinued, leaving four round trips on the new schedule.

It is expected that the new arrangement will be in force not later than June 1, if not sooner.

THURMAN CARTER DIED TUESDAY IN LOCAL HOSPITAL

Thurman Carter, aged 7 years, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. Carter, 1419 West Fourth avenue, died in the Navarro County Hospital Tuesday morning at 2:30 o'clock after a two week's illness, and the funeral will be held from the family home Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock with interment in Zion's Rest cemetery.

Surviving are his parents and two sisters.

The funeral will be directed by the Corley-McMahon Funeral Home.

NEW FERTILIZER BENEFIT.

WILLS POINT, May 15.—(Spl.)—W. B. Bruce, who owns several farms in this county, said he found a new advantage about using fertilizer on cotton during the heavy rains. He says he found that the cotton that was fertilized was damaged but little as the stalks were larger and taller and stood the flood well and recovered rapidly after the water was gone.

Corsicana Hospital And Clinic Closed Temporarily Tuesday

The hospital department of the Corsicana Hospital and Clinic has been closed for the time being, but will probably be re-opened in the near future, it was stated Tuesday morning by W. T. Shell, Sr., president.

Clinical service and doctors offices will be maintained, the president stated, and emergency cases will be cared for in the usual way, with some one of the doctors on duty all the time.

Officials and personnel of the organization will remain the same, the statement by the president declared. Following are the officers: W. T. Shell, Sr., president; Mrs. W. T. Shell, vice president; W. T. Shell, Jr., secretary-treasurer; W. J. Rochelle, business manager. The personnel includes Miss Evelyn Scroggins, bookkeeper; Miss Alice Piland, technician.

LARGEST TIRE IN WORLD IS HEADED TOWARD CORSICANA

The largest tire in the world is on its way to Corsicana, and will be on exhibit in our city on Tuesday, May 20th, according to Leon Daniels, salesman for Simon Daniels, located at corner Third avenue and Beaton street.

That intense interest will be aroused is a foregone conclusion, as this gigantic tire, an outstanding curiosity, has been an awe-inspiring spectacle wherever it has been shown.

"This massive tire, which has traveled thousands of miles, visiting various sections of the United States and Canada, has been an object of wonderment. It measures twelve feet in height and four feet in width, and the total weight of the tire and yoke is 3,900 pounds just a fraction under two tons," said Mr. Daniels.

"This tire was built by the Goodyear Tire & Rubber company of Akron, Ohio, in line with that company's policy of pioneering and research, through which have come many of the most important developments in the tire industry. The longer folks look at it the more interested they become."

C. C. President Invited to Attend Opening Air Field

President E. M. Polk of the Corsicana chamber of commerce has been invited to attend the aerial maneuvers that will formally open Randolph Field, the West Point of the air, at San Antonio on June 20-21.

The opening is being sponsored by the air corps of the United States army, civic and city officials, the San Antonio chapter of the American Aeronautical association, the chamber of commerce and other organizations.

I've Saved the Price of Another Pair of Shoes

With Wolverine Shell Horsehide

"WEARING Wolverines is just like finding money. I used to buy two pairs of work shoes a year. But this one pair of Wolverines has saved me the price of another pair. Yes, sir! Wearing Wolverines is just like finding money!"

Every man to whom we sell Wolverines praises their longer wear and greater comfort like this. That's because Wolverines are made of Shell Horsehide, the longest wearing leather; because they stay soft, are scuffproof, and stand the gaff better in the barnyard. Come in and try on a pair—Wolverines cost no more than work shoes of ordinary quality.

Wolverine Shell Horsehide outwears other leathers because it has a reinforcing shell beneath the hide that smooths off after the outside skin wears down, and shows no sign of wear for a long time.

SOUTHWEST AREA CONTINUES VICTIM UNRULY ELEMENTS

HEAVY HAIL IN PARTS OKLAHOMA; WIND DAMAGE AT ALEDO WAS HEAVY

(By The Associated Press.)

One person was drowned and thousands of dollars damage to farming land, highways, railroads and other properties caused by terrific rain and wind storms that swept sections of Texas Monday and Monday night.

Near Fort Worth, Junior Mc Burnett, six-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Burnett, was snatched from his mothers arms by raging waters of Sycamore creek after she had decided to abandon her home on account of the rising stream. The body was recovered Tuesday morning.

The greatest property damage apparently was at Aledo. Parker county, where a terrific wind demolished two residences, lumber yard, a cotton gin and a vacant store building and unroofed a number of other structures. The loss there was estimated at $50,000.

Around Palmer, Ellis county, more than four inches of rain fell, causing the destruction of hundreds of acres of crops and damaging highways and railroad lines.

Rainfall measuring one half to five inches swept over the Panhandle. Hail fell in some sections. Shamrock had two inches. However, rain and hail was reported to have benefitted crops to some extent in Gray county, offsetting any damage done.

More than a half inch of rain fell in the vicinity of Wichita Falls. Light hail was reported near Haskell.

Gregg county had a 2.01 inch rainfall. Texas and Pacific and International Great Northern trains were rerouted. Washouts were reported at Forney and Lawrence on the Texas and Pacific.

Southern Pacific Damaged.

Brushy and Red Oak creeks were raging torrents, the latter being two miles wide north of Palmer. A thousand feet of track on the main line of the Southern Pacific was washed out and trains from Houston were detoured into Dallas by way of Ennis and Fort Worth.

In Dallas a three-inch downpour was estimated to have caused $15,000 damage to streets, residences and other property. One house was washed from its foundation and police were called to rescue persons marooned in their homes by waters from swollen streams and over-taxed drainage facilities.

Traffic was interrupted in Houston for a time in some parts of the city by torrential rain of 3.15 inches, more than one inch of which fell in about two hours.

Five inches of rain was reported to have fallen at Blum in Hill county. A light shower fell at Borger Tuesday after a damaging hail and rain Monday.

DALLAS, May 13.—(AP)—Hail storms and torrential rains, doing great damage to crops, have accompanied devastating winds in parts of the Southwest.

Eight counties of Northwestern Oklahoma were swept by hail storms last night. Leaves were stripped from trees, livestock injured, and homes damaged.

Reports from Woods, Alfalfa, Woodward, Grant, Roger Mills, Dewey, Major and Custer counties told of ruined crops, hammered into the ground by hail. The storm was accompanied by a deluge of rain which varied from one to three inches throughout the storm area. From Aledo, Tex., early today came word of probable damage of more than 50,000, caused by wind.

Two residences, a lumber yard, a cotton gin and an empty store building were demolished by the storm.

High water also is causing alarm. Near Fort Worth, Tex., Junior McDurmett, 7, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. G. McDermett was drowned. The boy was swept from his mother's arms while she was carrying him from waters of Sycamore creek, swollen by heavy rains, which had invaded their farm.

SWEETWATER, May 13.—(AP)—Hail accompanied an inch rain here last night doing considerable damage to buildings. Windows were broken, roofs beaten in and automobile tops smashed. The downpour was reported general north and east of here.

PALMER, May 13.—(AP)—A four-inch downpour, the heaviest rain in this section in 25 years, fell last night, causing the destruction of hundreds of acres of crops and damaging highways and railroad lines.

Brushy and Red Oak creeks were raging torrents, the latter being two miles wide north of here. A thousands feet of track on the main line of the Southern Pacific was washed out and trains were detoured into Dallas by way of Ennis and Fort Worth.

Water was several feet over the Dallas-Corsicana highway.

DALLAS, May 13.—(AP)—Property damage estimated at $15,000 was caused here last night by a three-inch downpour that swelled streams over a number of sections.

One house was washed from its foundation and police were called to rescue persons marooned in their homes by the sudden rise in the streams and overtaxed drainage facilities.

Parts of Fort Worth Flooded

FORT WORTH, May 1.—(AP)—Monday night's rain measuring 4 inches, sent Trinity river and Lake Worth on a rapid rise and flooded several sections of the city.

At 9.30 today, Trinity river measured 26.5 feet and was rising. The danger line is 30 feet and normal 6.5 feet.

Police closed the Purvis road bridge between Arlington Heights and the north side and the bridge between Riverside and the Fort Worth- Dallas pike. Many cars were reported stalled in this vicinity.

A severe hail and windstorm struck southern sections of the city at 9.30 p. m., Monday stripping fruit trees of fruit and ruining gardens.

ENID, Okla. May 13.—(AP)—A destructive hail storm almost entirely ruined the wheat crop in a strip varying from five to seven miles in width from Alva, Woods county, to Lamont, Grant county, reports received here today indicated.

Roofs of buildings in Pond Creek were badly damaged and most of the window lights on the south and west sides of buildings were broken. Many stocks of merchandise were damaged by water.

Council of League Names Commission On Wailing Wall

GENEVA, May 15.—(AP)—The Council of the League of Nations adjourned today after approving the personnel for a special commission which will study the historic problem of the wailing wall in Jerusalem, so often the center of dispute between Jews and Arabs.

The commissioners are M. Eiel Loefgren, former Swedish foreign minister; Charles Bards, Swiss jurist, and Maynheer von Kempen, Dutch colonial official.

It was understood the Franco-Italian negotiations on the naval problem, which began here this week, will be continued through the regular diplomatic channels.

FORMER NAVARRO COUNTY RESIDENT NOW IN CALIFORNIA

The following letter received by E. L. Green from his brother, Geo. who is now making his home in Northern California, will be of interest to the writer's many friends in Navarro county:

Scotia, Humbolt Co., Cal.
May 1, 1930.

Dear Ed and family:

I will write to all at the same time. I am well and have been at work ever since I've been here with the exception of a few rainy days. Royce, Pearl and Billie are well and doing fine out here.

California is a great country, some of the grandest scenery I ever saw in this great redwood country. I was in Eureka a few days ago with Royce and Pearl and they took me all over town, about the size of Corsicana. One one street was a redwood stump with two doors leading into a room of considerable size, then a section of the log on end then forty feet of the log is furnished and occupied by a family selling curios. The log is 12 feet high, what a monster. Tomorrow we are going to see the largest of them all. Six feet from the ground, this tree measures 78 feet around. One day we spent in the redwoods on Red Wood highway and one tree that claimed my attention, measured 278 feet to the first limb. Many of them are over 300 feet high and there are more trees to the acre than any timber I ever saw.

This is a great dairy and fruit country, especiall Eel Valley where Royce lives. There are countless herds of milch cows, many of them valued at $500 to $1,000 per head. Thousands of sheep but very few hogs or mules; some good horses. There are fine orchards of apples, cherries, plums and pears, then strawberries, loganberries, black and dewberries, also English walnuts and all the trees loaded with their different fruit.

Improved land in this valley is selling for $1,000 per acre up.

Standing on Royce's doorstep, you see mountains on three sides, clothed in a carpet of green, with soft fleecy clouds or fog, floating over them and the sides all bathed in golden sunshine.

We went riding one evening this week, taking a mountain road, which for a long distance was only wide enough for one car with a drop of hundreds of feet from the edge. The scenery was simply grand. We passed through Dhonerville, a nice little mountain town, Scotia, Dell, Loleta, Ferndale, Bridgedale and Fortuna, where Royce lives.

Royce gets his vacation June 1st, two weeks. He plans to go to Oregon then to San Francisco, Los Angeles and other places. They want me to go with them, and I want to if I can arrange work so I can leave.

Yesterday I went to Eureka, county seat of Humbolt county. We visited the lighthouse on the Pacific. Standing there I felt the good Lord was indeed pouring out his blessings on me, as I gazed on this mighty body of water, stretching out thousands of miles, clear as a crystal, on one side, and the mountains and valleys with their heavy carpet of grass, dotted with fine ranch buildings and scattered over with cattle and sheep, making a picture no artist could paint.

Now Ed there isn't any cotton or corn raised here; too cool for cotton, temperature from 26 to 52 above. You sleep under the same number of blankets the year round. There are on mosquitoes, few flies and no rattlesnakes here. Most vegetables do fine here, especially in winter. Strawberries are ripe and such a crop. This is a great country, no talk of hard times, wages good and everyone busy.

Mr. Simmons of Fortuna is going to take me out on the Pacific fishing, he has a launch. We may take a hunt in the mountains. There are plenty of deer, bear and mountain lions. It will be a trip of 150 miles. Will tell you more in my next letter.

Love to all,
GEORGE T. GREEN.

WATERS RECEDING IN LARGE CREEKS NAVARRO COUNTY

High waters in Navarro county are receding and normal traffic is expected to be resumed over the roads Friday. Chambers creek on the Roane and Kerens roads was still holding up traffic but was going down.

Richland creek is still over the road between Corsicana and Dawson, but automobiles were crossing Thursday afternoon.

Chambers creek was 6 or 7 feet over the pavement on the Roane road Wednesday. Guide posts that are five feet high were completely covered and it was estimated that water was from one to two feet over them. This is the highest that the creek has been in several years.

There has been some traffic over the road to Emhouse. The new concrete slab has been opened from the airport to the country club, it is being used.

PRESENTATION TWO FLAGS TO SCHOOLS SET FOR TUESDAY

The presentation of two large American flags to the Corsicana Junior and Senior high schools, which were brought with donation by a number of local citizens, will be made by Major Charles H. Mills at a special patriotic program at the high school Tuesday, May 20, at 10 o'clock, with officers and representatives from every patriotic society of the city; the donors and members of the Corsicana board of education as special guests. Superintendent H. D. Fillers announced Wednesday.

The donors who made it possible for the flags to be given the schools are: Mrs. Kate H. Whitselle, Major Charles H. Mills, F. B. McKie, H. R. Stroube, W. C. Stroube, J. N. Garitty, R. L. Hamilton, Fred M. Allison, C. C. Cunningham, and John P. Garitty.

The formal presentation will be made by Major Mills after a number of patriotic selection by the high school band, under the direction of Joel C. Trimble.

Officers of the following organizations of the city will be special guests, and occupy seats on the stage, together with the donors and members of the board of education.

Sons of the American Revolution, Daughters of the American Revolution, Confederate Veterans, United Daughters of the Confederacy, Spanish-American War Veterans, American Legion, and the American Legion auxiliary.

District Farm Bureau Federation in Session

PLAINVIEW, May 14.—(AP)—Directors of the eighteenth congressional district of the Texas Farm Bureau federation gathered here today for a two-day conference.

Sam H. Thompson, president of the American Farm Bureau federation, was to make an address this afternoon. J. E. Montgomery of Tyman, president, and L. R. Campbell of Dallas, secretary, were among officials of the Texas federation here for the meeting.

Cooledge Completes Its Sewer System

MEXIA, May 15.—(Spl.)—The town of Coolidge near here, has announced completion of its new $30,000 sewer system. Mayor T. L. Satterwhite has accepted the work from the contractor, W. B. Carter, of Tulsa, and crews have moved to Tyler.

Coolidge is now planning a "white way" system of ornamental street lights, the next civic improvement.

Securing Deeds For Highway Right of Way In Limestone County

MEXIA, May 15.—(Spl.)—Securing deeds to right of way along the new routing of Highway No. 14 from Groesbeck to Kosse has been started. The new route will eliminate two hazardous grade crossings.

The state is to grade and pave the new road, abandoning the old road which is graveled. The new road is west of the Southern Pacific tracks the entire distance from Groesbeck to Kosse.

DISTRICT CENSUS COUNT PRACTICALLY COMPLETE THURSDAY

Only a few enumerators have not finished their work in the sixteenth Texas census district composed of Navarro, Ellis, Limestone and Freestone counties, E. L. Dupuy, district supervisor, stated Thursday, but in several instances, the high waters and continued rains have seriously hampered the finishing up of the work.

The following census figures were announced by Mr. Dupuy Thursday:

Justice precinct 1, including Groesbeck, 7,552 in 1930, as compared with 6,292 in 1920, an increase of 1,230. There were 1,092 farms enumerated in this area. The number of farms in 1920 is not known.

Justice precinct 4, including Mexia and Tehuacana, Limestone county, 12,342 in 1930, as compared with 8,633 in 1920, a gain of 3,709. There were 883 farms enumerated in 1930, as compared with 1,117 in 1920, a loss of 234 farms.

Justice precinct 8, including Thornton, Limestone county, 4,010 in 1930, as compared with 3,782 in 1920, an increase of 228. There were 809 farms enumerated in 1930, as compared with 674 in 1920, an increase of 135 farms.

Justice precinct 5, including Blooming Grove, Frost and Purdon, Navarro county, 7,847 in 1930, as compared with 7,455 in 1920, an increase of 392. There were 1,519 farms enumerated in 1930, as compared with 1,037 in 1920, an increase of 122 farms.

Justice precinct 2, including Ferris and Palmer, Ellis county, 7,508 in 1930, as compared with 8,003 in 1920, a decrease of 495. There were 1,048 farms enumerated in 1930, as compared with 1,114 farms in 1920, a loss of 66.

Justice precinct 5, including Maypearl, Ellis county, 2,455 in 1930, as compared with 2,252 in 1920, an increase of 203. There were 402 farms in 1930, as compared with 293 in 1920, a gain of 109.

STATE MEETING OF SPANISH WAR VETS CLOSED TUESDAY

WACO, May 14.—After selecting San Antonio as the meeting place for 1931, electing officers and transacting other business of the day, the two-day meeting of the stated encampment of the department of Texas, United Spanish War veterans, adjourned shortly after noon Tuesday, having had one of the busiest sessions in their history.

Officers elected and installed for the department of Texas were: Commander, J. B. Derden, Fort Worth; senior vice commander, Henry Geyer, San Antonio; junior vice commander, M. W. Lusk, Galveston; chaplain, Rev. F. M. Brooks, Waco; surgeon, Dr. L. B. Stevens, Paris; marshal, Joe Pechal, Ennis; judge advocate, John B. Howard, El Paso; historian, E. Ross Chamblin, Dallas; inspector, Willam J. Condon, Dallas; patriotic instructer, Gave Cazell, San Antonio.

Previous to the vote the names of Frank S. Booher for commander, L. F. Meeks for vice commander, Park Heaton for chaplain were withdrawn by these nominees with the consent of those presenting their names.

Not a grievance or kick was registered at the meeting, as shown by the report of the grievance committee.

Greetings were extended in a telegram from the department of California, in session at Fresno, the telegram coming from Vice Commander John McCormick, formerly of Texas.

A. McWhirk of Dallas, now in a hospital at Alexandria, La., sent a telegram of good wishes to the gathering at Waco.

San Antonio Gets Session.

The veterans' organization made a donation of $100 to the ladies auxiliary, in session at the Hilton Hotel here, and supplemented this with $70 in cash from private gifts.

American Legion greetings from James Edmond Post, Waco, were extended by D. W. Bartlett, David R. Temple and Clint Allen, while John W. St. Clair of Fort Worth, member of Henry Terrell Camp, also president of the Red Cross there, brought greetings.

San Antonio and Harlingen both made a hard fight for the next meeting, the vote showing that San Antonio polled 39 votes and Harlingen 37, some delegates having left to catch outbound trains.

Officers were elected and installed by the woman's auxiliary, after which adjournment was had until 1931 in San Antonio.

The officers chosen were, state president, Lou Ella Allen, Ennis; senior vice president, Alice McMasters, El Paso; junior vice president, Helen Trieller, Dallas; chaplain, Blanche Spicer, Waco; patriotic instructor, Flora Spawn, Houston; historian, Helena Heigle, Dallas; inspector, Frances Brown, Galveston; conductor, Elizabeth Farrell; assistant conductor, Margaret Douglas; guard, Kate Scharfenberg, all three of San Antonio; assistant guard, Mary Derden, Fort Worth.

Temple Gets Next Meeting Pythians

MINERAL WELLS, May 14.—(AP)—Temple today was selected as the next meeting place of the Texas Grand Lodge of Knights of Pythias and Pythian Sisters.

Ellis P. House, Dallas, was elected Grand Chancellor. Lula Johnson, Santa Anna, was chosen Grand Chief of the Pythian Sisters; Alta Lacy, Beaumont, Grand Senior and Elizabeth Tipps, Beaumont, Grand Manager.

BAPTIST PLANNING LARGE BUDGET FOR ACTIVITIES 1931

SOUTHERN BAPTIST CONVENTION HEARS REPORTS AND RECOMMENDATIONS

NEW ORLEANS, May 15.—(AP)—The Southern Baptist convention began today's session with reports and recommendations up for consideration.

A budget of $3,000,000 was recommended by the executive committee for the next year's activities. In submitting the report, Austin Crouch, of Nashville, Tenn., said the budget had been framed in conference with representatives of all southwide agencies. The budget was divided as follows:

Foreign Mission Board, $1,500,000.

Home Mission Board (including $25,000 for New Mexico bonds), $725,000.

Relief and Annuity Board, $210,000.

Educational Board (handled by executive committee), $100,000.

Southern Baptist Theological Seminary, $100,000.

Southwestern Theological Seminary, $152,000.

Baptist Bible Institute, $110,000.

American Baptist Theological Seminary, $12,000.

New Orleans Baptist Hospital, $75,000.

ing School, $16,000.

The total goals set by the nearly a score of states and the District of Columbia for the year is $5,807,097.50.

Merger Plans Brought

NEW ORLEANS, May 15.—(AP)—O. L. Miller of Boston, president of the northern Baptists convention, today brought a message to the Southern Baptist convenion inviting proposals for the welding of the two bodies into one.

"The Northern Baptists would welcome overtures from the Southern Baptists looking toward a union of the two great bodies," said Mr. Miller. "The first step toward union, I believe, will be made in 1933, when the latter part of the Southern Baptists' convention will overlap the first part of the Northern Baptists' convention."

The convention adopted a report of a special committee on annuities and relief which provides that after the first of the year the annuity fund would be converted to the relief fund instead of 45 per cent for annuity and 55 per cent for relief.

COTTON CONSUMED DURING APRIL WAS GAIN OVER MARCH

WASHINGTON, May 14.—(AP)—Cotton consumed during April was announced by the census bureau today as 532,382 bales of lint and 66,951 of linters, compared with 508,576 and 63,976 in March this year and 631, 802 and 70,543 April last year.

Cotton on hand April 30 was held as follows:

In consuming establishments, 1,667,394 bales of lint and 238,509 of linters, compared with 1,762,627 and 233,137 on March 31 this year and 1,606,412 and 233,231 on April 30 last year.

In public storage and at compresses, 3,636,296 bales of lint and 103,066 of linters, compared with 4,189,113 and 107,271 on March 31 this year and 2,524,621 and 81,690 on April 30 last year.

Imports for April totaled 67,397 bales, compared with 28,279 in March this year and 84,621 in April last year.

Exports for April totaled 349,762 bales of lint and 9,953 of linters, compared with 477,678 and 8,004 in March this year and 447,838 and 18,718 in April last year.

Cotton spindles active during April numbered 28,860,382 compared with 28,898,464 in March this year and 30,911,416 in April last year.

Local Figures in District Census

The following census figures were announced Tuesday from the office of E. L. Dupuy, census supervisor of the sixteenth Texas district:

Justice precinct 6, Limestone county, 971 in 1930, as compared with 1,288 in 1920, a decrease of 317. There were 241 farms enumerated in this area.

FALL TERM CITY SCHOOLS TO OPEN MONDAY, SEPT. 15

The 1930-31 term of the Corsicana public schools will open Monday, Sept. 15, 1930, it was decided at a meeting of the Corsicana board of education at the high school Tuesday afternoon, H. D. Fillers, superintendent, announced Wednesday. The election of teachers, the adoption of several new text books, and matters pertaining to the summer school session were also settled at Tuesday's meeting.

Teachers for all public schools in Corsicana were elected, and it was decided to give them until May 26 to signify their acceptance or rejection of the positions.

Superintendent Fillers said that summer school will open on Tuesday, June 3, 1930, and will continue for a period of 8 weeks, or 40 actual school days, and will close in the middle of July. J. G. Willard, high school science instructor, was elected principal of the new summer session, and additional teachers were named as follows.

O. P. Douglas, Mary Holmes, Catherine Whitten, Glynn Mitchell, Elowee McKee, Mrs. Pearl Averyt, Lois McCartney, and Zeffie Hill. The teachers named will conduct classes in subjects ranging from the first through the high school grades. Mr. Fillers said the summer school is offered for students who have failed in one or more subjects and desires to make up their lost credits, and for those who wish to take advanced school work.

Upon the recommendation of a textbook committee composed of high school teachers several new books were accepted for five-year use in the English, history and geometry departments. Selections were made from a multiple list of five books in each subject that have been approved by the state board of education.

Mrs. Gregory is With Dyer's Again In Millinery Dept.

Mrs. F. M. Gregory is again connected with the J. M. Dyer company as milliner, according to an announcement made today. Mrs. Gregory was in this department at Dyer's for several years and is returning to her position after an absence of about one and one-half years.

Prior to her first employment at Dyer's, Mrs. Gregory was with the millinery department of Titche-Goettinger, Dallas, and some large millinery firms in St. Louis.

CHANGE MADE IN COTTON CONTRACTS CO-OP MEMBERSHIP

DALLAS, May 14.—(AP)—Change in the membership contract of the Texas Cotton Co-Operative Association to allow members to deliver only a portion of their crop for sale by the association, was voted yesterday by the directors.

In the past, the contract required delivery of every bale by members. The revised contract provided that a member should deliver every other bale until he had handled ten bales through the association. Thereafter delivering to the association or not, at his option.

C. O. Moser of Dallas, vice-president of the American Cotton Co-Operative Association, was spokesman for the group of 40 business leaders and farmers from various portions of the state who requested the change.

Teague Man Died There Tuesday

TEAGUE, May 15.—(Spl.)—W. J. Trotter, 68, died at his home here Tuesday morning. Funeral services were held and interment made in Salem cemetery Tuesday afternoon.

The deceased, who is a lifelong resident of Freestone county, is survived by his wife and two daughters, Mrs. Howard King of Dallas and Mrs. C. McSwain of Teague.

FATHER AND SON CONDUCT REVIVAL IN LOCAL CHURCH

The pastor, R. A. Crosby, and his son, Uel D. Crosby, of Childress, are conducting the series of services at the Eleventh Avenue Methodist church each night at 8 o'clock. Good crowds have attended both the young people's services at 7 p. m., and the preaching service at 8.

Committees have been at work since Sunday inviting the membership and friends to the services. The song service has been very fine with the entire congregation joining in the singing.

Special services will be announced from time to time. At the Tuesday night service, Rev. J. W. Copeland and son, Kenneth, were invited to the platform and with the pastor and his son, presented something out of the ordinary, two fathers and two sons, all preachers.

It is expected that the entire church will be revived and the membership added to. You are cordially invited.

K. Wolens Opens Two New Stores

K. Wolens announces the location of two new stores to be added to the present organization. These two new additions will be at Palestine and Kaufman. Plans call for modern store fronts and interiors. The store buildings are ample in size, having a frontage of 50 feet each and a depth of 125 feet, thus increasing the selling space by 12,500 square feet. The locations in both instances are in the heart of the two cities.

The managers and assistant managers will be selected from the men now employed and in training.

CONFLICTS CLOSED CAREER OF THE PRINCE OF PEACE

In Athmosphere of Antagonism, During His Last Days, Jesus Dealt Sternly With Pharisees and Priests—Definition of the Master Loyalties

By WILLIAM T. ELLIS.

Isn't it rather tragic that even the Prince of Peace could not escape strife? For most of His ministry, Jesus was surrounded by foes. During His last week He was in fierce conflict with the crowd that had determined to do Him to death.

Nor was the struggle one-sided. Throughout this closing week of His life, Jesus showed Himself to be the Lion of the Tribe of Judah, as well as the Lamb of God. His triumphal Entry had been a defiance and challenge to His foes. Knowing what awaited Him. He openly waged war with the priests and Pharisees. The twenty-third chapter of Matthew records the most terrific arraignment of a renegade ruling class ever made by orator of patriot.

No skulking, hiding, timorous object or terrorism was our Master; but a brave man and a fearless fighter for truth, undismayed by near and inevitable death. The sublime millitancy of those closing days of the Masters' mission puts iron into the blood, and courage into the heart of all who are enlisted under His flag. He showed men how to live and how to die.

The Flattery of Hypocrites.

Strong men are more displeased by the "jollier" than by the slanderer. Insincere flattery is an affront to one's self-respect. When the clever emissaries of His enemies came to Jesus with honeyed words of praise, He knew them for what they were. As Matthew reports, they had been sent by the Pharisees to entangle and ensnare Him in His talk. They were the witness by examination and cross-examination. They were not seekers after truth and light and justice, but pettifoggers and tricksters, with a dishonest cleverness in the use of catch-questions. Their insincere souls were their own damnation.

I am sorry for the man who has never enjoyed the luxury of telling a scoundrel that he is a scoundrel; of holding up the mirror of truth to a dishonest man's face. Jesus permitted Himself this privilege of sterling manhood. He was no mealy-mouthed mumbler of soft speech. When the cringing crooks came to Him, drooling fulsome phrases and professing an insincere eagerness to know a Jewish patriot's duty toward the Roman Government, Jesus blasted them with the scornful phrase, "Ye hypocrites!" Remember that, all ye jellyfish Christians who are afraid to call even the devil by his proper name. Our day's Chrisianity needs a baptism of the courage of Christ.

The Christian and the State.

Contemptuously, curtly, and by an object-lesson, as if dealing with dullard boys, the Master called for a coin.

"Whose is this image and superscription?"

"Caesar's."

"Render therefore unto Caesar the things which are Caesar's; and unto God the things that are Gods."

To that there could be no answer. Strange and simple as a sunbeam shone the truth that loyalty to the state and loyalty to God go hand in hand. They are not conflicting, but suplementary. Those who are true to the highest allegiances. Good men are also good citizens. Pillars of the nations have ever been the sober-minded persons who recognize that intelligent patriotism is a religious duty.

Christians are not slackers. Their spiritual sense sensitizes and supports their citizenship. Law-breakers do not come out of the churches and Sunday schools. In every tional emergency, it is the churches that are the first and main reliances of the State in promoting loyalty and high patriotism.

If, in these latter days, there have arisen within the ranks of religion a few noisy sentimentalists who are clamorous critics of their own nations, and propagandists of other nations, they are in no wise representative of the rank and file; for the latter cheerfully obey Christ's command to 'render unto Caesar the things which are Caesar's; and unto God the things that are God's. Democracy had its springs in Christianity; and their own self-made, self-imposed laws are obeyed by the friends of God, whatever pagan selfists may do.

Power For Patriotism.

Perhaps the bed-rock problem of good government in our time is how to create and maintain a moral passion of patriotism, which will ever put ahead of self-intest the welfare of the nation, and so of the world. Ours is the day of the cult of individualism. "Personal liberty" is the slogan of the restless and shortsighted and selfish, who have never learned to subdue an impulse to a principle. "Self-expression" and self-gratification are rampant doctrines; and they lead, as a moment's straight thinking shows, to the dissolving of democracy and to the advent of anarchy. Anybody can see that if each person is to obey his own whims and tastes and desires and convenience, then there can be left no common law, no master allegiance, no united well-being. Where concern for the common welfare, and solicitute for one's country are lacking as master motives, democracy simply cannot continue.

As surely as gasoline is needed to make an automobile go, so a social sense, or what may better be called a spiritual obligation, is required to provide power for the practice of patriotism. The patriot is one who thinks first of a unit greater than himself,—of his country and of his fellowmen. If he puts self first, he fails of his patriotism. Selfishness is the fundamental disloyalty. Let us get hold of this truth by the handle. For it is the basic principle of temperance and prohibition, before which the self-pleasing of those who would exalt a taste or an appetite into a life-sovereignty shrivels into pettiness.

Life's Highest Law.

Simple and strong was the teaching of Jesus. After the coin illustration of loyalty, the Master had occasion to confute another one of the pettifogging lawyers, by laying down, in explicit terms, the supreme law of life. He set forth the larger loyalties which should always govern his disciples; and in these principles we find the root of all social reform.

Setting a dialetic snare for the Teacher's feet, the Pharisee-lawyer, dissembling his hostility, asked, "Master, which is the great commandment in the law?"

Cutting boldly through all legalistic and theological enmeshments, Jesus replied, unequivocally and explicitly, "Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind. This is the first and great commandment. The second is like unto it, Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself. One these two commandments hang all the law and the prophets."

There we have life's working law, simply stated in the two allegiances—loyalty to God first,—of course, in order to stabilize and vitalize lesser loyalties—and then a loyalty to our fellowmen as real and active as loyalty to one's self. That is Christ's conception of a functioning social order. In these two major life-loyalties is wrapped up a power for moral passion; a concern for human welfare, a solicitude for one's own country; a sense of world-service.

In the light of this great pronouncement, self-indulgence, without regard to the rights of other men or to the right of God's sovereignty, becomes the great disloyalty. To "render unto God the things that are God's" calls for a display of His spirit of sacrificial love toward all of our fellows everywhere.

What this Doctor did for Humanity

As a young man the late Dr. R. V. Pierce, practiced medicine in Pennsylvania and was known far and near for his great success in alleviating disease. Finally he moved to Buffalo, N. Y., and put up in ready-to-use form, his GOLDEN MEDICAL DISCOVERY, the well-known tonic for the blood. This strength builder is made from a formula which Dr. Pierce found most effective when in private practice.

It aids digestion, acts as a tonic and enriches the blood—clears away pimples and annoying eruptions and tends to keep the complexion fresh and clear.

PLANS MADE FOR REBUILDING FROST METHODIST CHURCH

BUILDING FREE OF DEBT EXPECTED TO BE TURNED OVER TO PEOPLE THERE

The regular monthly meeting of the board of stewards of the First Methodist church met in the educational building Monday night with R. J. Jackson, chairman of the board, presiding. The roll was called by R. B. Mitchell, secretary, and W. E. Slaughter read the financial report, after which bills for the month were ordered paid.

John T. Fortson, chairman of the men's committee to help the Frost Methodist church rebuild, took the floor and called on Rev. A. W. Hall to make a statement of the matter. Dr. Hall stated that the idea was to take what insurance money there was coming, plus what the church board of extension would give, plus the amount of money raised outside of Frost and build the church, according to the amount of money raised and turn it over to the citizens of Frost free of debt. He said he would not agree to saddle a nickle's worth of debt for the church on the citizens of Frost. He also said that the Methodist minister was the only resident minister of Frost and as some 400 church people with a Sunday school of some 400 was without a single place to properly worship, that he hoped all speed would be used in raising money.

The board of stewards elected Boyce Martin to act as treasurer. All moneys to be given for this purpose can be left or mailed to Mr. Martin at the Daily Sun office. The bars were pulled down by the board and funds will be accepted and are solicited from all denominations. A contribution list will appear in the Daily Sun from time to time.

The board also appointed Dr. Hall to represent the First Church in presenting this matter to other Methodist churches throughout the state and if necessary speakers from First Church will be sent to the various churches to explain the matter in full and take offerings.

RUMORED CHANGE IN SCHEDULE FOR INTERURBAN CARS

It is understood in Corsicana that the interstate commerce commission of Texas has granted the application of the Texas Electric Railway company for the discontinuance of three trains on the Corsicana-Dallas division, although no official announcement has been made by officials.

It is stated that instead of hurly arrival and departure of the electric cars here, it will be at one and one-half hour intervals.

The new schedule has not been announced and it is understood that the officials of the railway company are working out a new schedule arrangement.

Three round-trips daily will be discontinued, leaving four round trips on the new schedule.

It is expected that the new arrangement will be in force not later than June 1, if not sooner.

THURMAN CARTER DIED TUESDAY IN LOCAL HOSPITAL

Thurman Carter, aged 7 years, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. Carter, 1419 West Fourth avenue, died in the Navarro County Hospital Tuesday morning at 2:30 o'clock after a two week's illness, and the funeral will be held from the family home Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock with interment in Zion's Rest cemetery.

Surviving are his parents and two sisters.

The funeral will be directed by the Corley-McMahon Funeral Home.

NEW FERTILIZER BENEFIT.

WILLS POINT, May 15.—(Spl.)—W. B. Bruce, who owns several farms in this county, said he found a new advantage about using fertilizer on cotton during the heavy rains. He says he found that the cotton that was fertilized was damaged but little as the stalks were larger and taller and stood the flood well and recovered rapidly after the water was gone.

Corsicana Hospital And Clinic Closed Temporarily Tuesday

The hospital department of the Corsicana Hospital and Clinic has been closed for the time being, but will probably be re-opened in the near future, it was stated Tuesday morning by W. T. Shell, Sr., president.

Clinical service and doctors offices will be maintained, the president stated, and emergency cases will be cared for in the usual way, with some one of the doctors on duty all the time.

Officials and personnel of the organization will remain the same, the statement by the president declared. Following are the officers: W. T. Shell, Sr., president; Mrs. W. T. Shell, vice president; W. T. Shell, Jr., secretary-treasurer; W. J. Rochelle, business manager. The personnel includes Miss Evelyn Scroggins, bookkeeper; Miss Alice Piland, technician.

LARGEST TIRE IN WORLD IS HEADED TOWARD CORSICANA

The largest tire in the world is on its way to Corsicana, and will be on exhibit in our city on Tuesday, May 20th, according to Leon Daniels, salesman for Simon Daniels, located at corner Third avenue and Beaton street.

That intense interest will be aroused is a foregone conclusion, as this gigantic tire, an outstanding curiosity, has been an awe-inspiring spectacle wherever it has been shown.

"This massive tire, which has traveled thousands of miles, visiting various sections of the United States and Canada, has been an object of wonderment. It measures twelve feet in height and four feet in width, and the total weight of the tire and yoke is 3,900 pounds just a fraction under two tons," said Mr. Daniels.

"This tire was built by the Goodyear Tire & Rubber company of Akron, Ohio, in line with that company's policy of pioneering and research, through which have come many of the most important developments in the tire industry. The longer folks look at it the more interested they become."

C. C. President Invited to Attend Opening Air Field

President E. M. Polk of the Corsicana chamber of commerce has been invited to attend the aerial maneuvers that will formally open Randolph Field, the West Point of the air, at San Antonio on June 20-21.

The opening is being sponsored by the air corps of the United States army, civic and city officials, the San Antonio chapter of the American Aeronautical association, the chamber of commerce and other organizations.

I've Saved the Price of Another Pair of Shoes

With Wolverine Shell Horsehide

"WEARING Wolverines is just like finding money. I used to buy two pairs of work shoes a year. But this one pair of Wolverines has saved me the price of another pair. Yes, sir! Wearing Wolverines is just like finding money!"

Every man to whom we sell Wolverines praises their longer wear and greater comfort like this. That's because Wolverines are made of Shell Horsehide, the longest wearing leather; because they stay soft, are scuffproof, and stand the gaff better in the barnyard. Come in and try on a pair—Wolverines cost no more than work shoes of ordinary quality.

Wolverine Shell Horsehide outwears other leathers because it has a reinforcing shell beneath the hide that smooths off after the outside skin wears down, and shows no sign of wear for a long time.

FROST IS FACING FUTURE IN MOST DETERMINED WAY

BANKS OPENED AND OTHER BUSINESSES RESUMED WEEK AFTER TORNADO HIT TOWN

A week after the tornado had almost wiped their little town off the map, the people of Frost were still gamely facing their reconstruction problem to bring their affairs as near normal as possible in the face of numerous discouragements, principally from the weather.

Both the First National Bank and the Citizen's State Bank of Frost opened their doors Tuesday about noon for the first time since the storm, aiding in the stabilizing of business conditions in the storm-torn community.

Trustees of the Frost schools also voted Monday to re-open Wednesday morning and to continue at the discretion of Superintendent W. V. Harrison. The trustees hoped to let a contract for a temporary roof on the building sometime Tuesday. Albert Evans, assistant national director of disaster relief of the American Red Cross, will address the students at the opening session.

The wrecked town was again drenched Monday night. Rainfall amounting to 7.12 inches has fallen on the community since last Tuesday, adding considerably to the damage and discomfort of the inhabitants, and retarding their efforts at reconstruction and rehabilitation. A large number of the people are living in tents issued by the Red Cross while others are remaining in their deroofed residences.

Appeals for Funds Made.

As the needs of the situation become more apparent, the statewide appeal for funds for relief work has been increased from $150,000 to $200,000 by officials of the American Red Cross, and the new appeals have been sent to the heads of the various chapters in Texas. Mayor I. A. Sanders of Frost has also called on the mayors of other Texas cities to push their relief funds to give the people of Frost an opportunity to "comeback."

A group of workmen from the Corsicana bricklayers and plasterers' union donned nail aprons and armed with hammers completed the second unit of the temporary store buildings Monday by noon and within a few minutes after the last nail was driven all of the five storerooms were occupied and within a few hours the merchants were doing business. Plans were being made late Monday to erect another single unit, which it is believed will take care of the situation for the time being. Twenty-one store units are now available. Several of the merchants are using their former quarters in spite of the damage.

Rains Slow Up Work

Clean-up work was slowed up considerably Monday when practically all of the state highway department trucks were ordered out to aid in rebuilding bridges and repair roads damaged and destroyed by the heavy rains over the weekend. During the morning, however, considerable progress was made in cleaning up the residential sections, with school boys under W. V. Harrison doing the majority of the work.

Dr. Dan B. Hamill, county health officer, and Miss Floyd King, continued the work of administering the typhoid innoculations Monday, and a large number of others were expected to take the treatment during the next few days. A clinic is also maintained at Red Cross headquarters where first aid is given, and old wounds and injuries dressed.

A movement was started Monday by the Frost chamber of commerce and public officials, backed by Corsicana interests, to secure a special rate on the railroads, particularly on building materials for the community. Encouraging reports on the matter were received from Railroad Commissioner Lon A. Smith, and it is hoped that a special scale can be secured to aid in rebuilding the town.

Talley Promises Aid

Lynn P. Talley, governor of the Federal Reserve Bank of Dallas, made a personal tour of inspection of the area around Frost Monday morning, and at the conclusion promised every possible assistance to the community through the Frost banks. He also made a contribution of $500 to the relief fund.

Among the donations received Monday was a check from Lorraine, Ohio, for $300. The Ohio city was swept by a tornado several years ago and practically destroyed.

John E. Surratt of Dallas, city planning expert, W. W. McClendon, county engineer and others conferred with Frost officials Tuesday on the site of the new permanent structures, and general outlines upon which the town will be rebuilt.

Albert Evans, assistant national director of relief for the American Red Cross who is personally directing relief in the Texas areas, declared late Monday that the situation was shaping up as well as could be expected.

New Director to Arrive

Edward Transue will arrive in Corsicana Wednesday morning and will immediately take charge as area director of the Frost sector, relieving Miss Lula Severs, who has been directing the work. Miss Severs, who is a national field representative, will continue as assistant area director; under her supervision the work has been going forward in the best possible manner, and almost all of the urgent immediate needs of the people have been met.

Miss Henrietta Wilkins, another relief worker, aided in the work at Frost Monday, going on to West in the McLennan county area Tuesday, where forty-one families were affected by the storm.

Mr. Transue has been connected with Red Cross relief work since the World war, Mr. Evans said Monday, and is coming directly from the New Mexico flood area where he has been directing relief; he was also area director in the Mississippi floods, and in the Porto Rican disasters.

According to Mr. Evans, the emergency needs of the people in the Frost area have been supplied for the time, and the great problem now is of reconstruction. Preparations are being made to rush this work as swiftly as possible, and particular emphasis is being given the needs of the farmers so that they can make a crop this year if possible.

Case workers were busily engaged Monday in interviewing the storm sufferers, finding out their situations, and affording them such immediate relief as was available, and filing away further information for use in the follow-up work and reconstruction that is to come in the next few months.

The courage of the people is little short of miraculous, and the sturdy independence of the American farmer crops out in almost every case.

Farmers and their wives, well passed the middle of life, who lost everything in the storm came up for their interviews with very meagre lists of supplies that were needed for them to return to their farms, the majority of them rented, and resume the work of making a crop under the heaviest of difficulties.

All Coffee Being Reconditioned Free By Local Company

Announcement was made by J. N. Royall of the Royall Coffee company Tuesday that all coffee, of whatever brand, salvaged from the tornado-wrecked Frost stores was being recondition, re-roasted and cleaned free of charge by the Royall Coffee company here. Mr. Royall was displaying a tin of his company's coffee that was badly battered but still intact and the contents undamaged. Between 1,000 and 1,500 pounds of coffee have already been reconditioned, Mr. Royall stated.

The following telegram was sent to Mayor Sanders in this connection:

Corsicana, Tex., May 10, 1930.
Hon. Mayor Sanders,
Frost, Texas.

We would thank you to inform all merchants of Frost that we will clean and dry out any rain damaged coffees they might have, free of charge, regardless of whether it be our coffee or other brands. They can either ship to us by rail or truck or as soon as the roads are passable we will be glad to call for their coffee and return same. This should be given prompt attention as wet coffee will soon ruin and will not be fit for consumption.

and Manager.

War Nurse Sends Sargon to Mother In Far Off London

MRS. A. J. PAYNE

"Sargon did so much for me that I'm sending a treatment to my mother in London, England.

"I'm a trained nurse and served overseas in the World War, but I never in all my life saw anything like Sargon. I was almost a nervous wreck, was put on a strict diet of milk, for months and I was constantly having to dose myself with drastic laxatives, and finally after long suffering I was down to 95 pounds. I started Sargon about a month ago and now my appetite is splendid and I haven't a trace of indigestion. My whole system is wonderfully strengthened and invigorated. I sleep fine and am gaining weight every day. Sargon Pills overcame my constipation completely."—Mrs. A. J. Payne, 214 N. 75th St., Birmingham, Ala.

Gentlemen:

We take pleasure in sending in $103.65 as the total receipts from the Palace-Daily Sun benefit performance on last Friday night, given for the Frost Red Cross relief fund.

If it had not been for the big rain and bad weather at the time of this benefit show we would have been able to send in several hundred dollars more.

Yours very truly,
PALACE THEATRE.

DONATE COTTONSEED.

WILLS POINT, May 13.—(SPL)—The farmers of this section sent a large shipment of cotton seed to the storm sufferers at Frost Monday and will make another shipment during the week. It was reported that thousands of acres of cotton were destroyed by the storm and they had no seed to replant with.

ALLEGED UNFAIR ATTITUDE OF PRESS SUBJECT RESOLUTION

DALLAS, May 13.—(AP)—The reprimand order by the general conference of the Methodist Episcopal church, South, for newspapers which gave "unfair display" to complaints filed against bishops of the church was delivered to newspapermen today by the committee named to write it.

The statement follows: "It is the sense of this general conference that we fully appreciate the services the press renders to the church, and we are anxious to cooperate with the newspapers in every way possible.

"But we regret that some newspapers have so reported routine matters touching upon the work of the conference and some members of the Episcopacy as to make the strong impression on the public mind regarding the conference's attitude toward the Episcopacy and other issues."

The "routine matters" spoken of presumably were the complaints filed by the Rev. Rembert Smith of Washington, Ga., against Bishops Cannon, Moore, Mouzon and DuBose, charging undue political activity in the 1928 election. Bishops Moore and Mouzon were given a clean slate yesterday by the Episcopacy committee considering the charges.

The committee had not yet considered the records of the other two bishops named.

Adopt Cannon Resolution

The conference, without a dissenting vote, adopted today one of the resolutions of Bishop James Cannon, Jr., of Washington, D. C., asking congress to expedite consideration of law enforcement measures recommended by President Hoover. The vote was taken when the committee on temperance asked that rules be suspended in order that the resolution be considered.

Josephus Daniels, chairman of the temperance committee, who, when Cannon's report was made last week, objected to immediate consideration of the resolution apart from the remainder of the Cannon report was absent this morning.

Daniels, in his previous objections, had said the committee desired to incorporate all such matters into one sweeping resolution on prohibition and law enforcement which would "resound throughout the republic." The committee approved Bishop Cannon's resolution last week in the absence of the chairman.

TEXAS BANKERS ASSAIL METHODS OF FEDERAL RESERVE

FORT WORTH, May 15.—(AP)—Speakers at the Texas bankers' association convention today assailed the methods of the federal reserve system and denounced chain banking.

"It is preferable to revise the federal reserve system rather than kill the unit plan of banking," said T. P. Minor, cashier of the First State Bank of Killeen, Texas. Two reasons for failure of country banks, he declared, were over banking and financial depression.

The police power of the federal reserve act is throttling agriculture by taking debit power into its hands without assuming the responsibility of credit power, said Nathan Adams, president of the First National Bank of Dallas.

Port Arthur Named Meeting Place For Lions Next Year

AUSTIN, May 15.—(AP)—Fort Arthur was selected as the 1931 meeting place of the Texas Lions clubs at the final session of the annual convention here yesterday.

After dividing the state into five districts, the following five men were elected district governors: Sam Braswell of Clarendon; G. Rollo Davidson of Electra; Fred O. Grimes, Hillsboro; Will Dugger, San Antonio, and Dr. F. D. Fuller, of Bryan.

Dr. R. H. Graham of Wichita Falls was elected governor general.

IT IS ALWAYS READY

The Red Cross needs no introduction to the American public, because, during and since the world war it has been the channel through which the sympathies of the more fortunate citizen might reach those in distress. There was no difficulty during hostilities in finding support for this humanitarian organizaton. National gratitude carried over for a great many years, so that there was an instant response to every roll call. On the basis of this popular response the Red Cross has carried on in order to be ready for any emergency.

It is hard to imagine what the situation would be in time of general need without the Red Cross. The necessity for organized action is never greater than at the moment of general confusion that follows some holocaust. The Red Cross maintains an organization ready to handle any problem of this sort, large or small. It is able to operate with a minimum of delay, and to get maximum results for every dollar spent. Measured in dollars, the work which the Red Cross does could not be done by any other agency with twice as much money.

Though this indispensable organization is prepared at all times for any emergency and gives aid in as many as a hundred disasters a year, the public is forgetful of its existence except the annual membership roll call and in time of some major catastrophe. And yet the Red Cross has never been refused when in need of money or other public support.

INCOME TAX REFORM

Heading in importance the program laid out before the joint committee of congress on internal revenue taxation is the study of the income-tax law with a view to making it more scientific, more equitable and more stable in operation. From this committee the public has every right to expect a beneficent and highly useful piece of work, for it comprises senators and representatives who are ripe in experience and rich in legislative talent.

Among the income-tax phases the committee will concern itself with are the gain-and-loss provisions of the law, which are inequitable and based upon no sound theory or principle and to be defended only on grounds of expediency, the general principle that when a tax rate is so high as to prevent ordinary transactions for profit the taxpayer loses the profit and the government loses the tax, and the operation of the tax upon capital gains.

It is interesting and reassuring to learn that a body of unbiased experts has reached conclusions which confirm those of practical business men everywhere. The report of the committee's investigators contains some searching criticisms of the present revenue law which will be generally applauded by businessmen and taxpayers everywhere.

Should the committee adopt the reforms suggested it will not find the treasury department unsympathetic.

One reason why dad dosn't put his foot down on fool driving is because it's on the accelerator in the other car.

Americans believe in life everlasting. You can tell by the installment program they have laid out for themselves.

Owing to the late spring the new tariff will not bloom until June.

JUST FOLKS

AGE AND YOUTH.

They say it's not so long in looking back.
Those who have fared the seventy miles of time
Tell younger pilgrims courage not to lack,
The hills are not so difficult to climb.
And oft they smile to hear us whimpering
About the petty grievances which fall,
Some yesterday they shared the self-same thing.
The book of care they're read and know it all.
We who are younger think our goals lie far,
We slowly count the years which lie ahead.
They try to tell us just how near they are
And just how swiftly have the moments fled.

We, craving wisdom, think its progress slow
We would go marching to the stirring drum.
They, who resting, smile because they know
How surely and how swiftly all things come.

WHY BAD TIMES?

A luncheon club speaker exhorts, "Now is the time to get ready for returning good times." Everybody at the table nods approval. Not one has a doubt that "good times" will come back. The attitude is that of the athlete poised on the trapeze ready to catch the returning bar and swing off for a swift flight.

That is a psychology inspired by the economists of recent years. The whole business world is obsessed by the idea that it has to be sort of bob on a gigantic pendulum impelled by a force not well understood and alternating between fast swings and complete standstills. The hopeful phase of such a frame of mind lies in the fact that nobody really despairs when motion slows down. The thought always is, "Hold fast; get ready for the next swing!"

A still more hopeful sign is the tendency to revolt against the whole pendulum notion. Economists and other keen observers of business affairs are proclaiming that business itself, and not some blind force of economic principle, is responsible for the present erratic conditions.

Let this sensible teaching spread. Here is a tremendous economic system built up by such genius as the world never before has known. It is backed by such an accumulation of available wealth as the world never before has had, and possesses resources in material and labor and craft wholly adequate to its needs for constant output. It is nonsense to say that such equipment should be controlled by unreasoning caprice or should run wholly uncontrolled till it breaks down periodically, whecked by its own violence.

DAYS OF YOUTH.

"We are only young once," you often hear some person remark as an excuse for "hitting the pace."

True, we can be young but once, and the pleasures of youth must be crowded into that space of time.

But how long are we young? Some men are old at 40, while others are still young at 60. It depends upon the pace they hit and the manner in which they hit it.

We can crowd a lot of work and pleasure into youth if we keep our hearts and our minds and our bodies clean, or we can reduce the amount of both and shorten our youth by resorting to reckless dissipation.

Your youth is your own. It will be prolonged or curtailed by your own acts.

RIGHTS OF THE STATES.

Representative Ludlow, of Indiana, is apparently a Jeffersonian Democrat. He has offered a resolution in congress calling for the appointment of a commission to inquire into the growth of centralization of government in Washington.

When the extent of the usurpation of the powers of the states is known, he evidently hopes that congress may be induced to refrain from further disregard of state rights, even if it does not restore to the states some of the functions which it has taken from them.

President Coolidge protested against the growing tendency to ignore the states long before Mr. Ludlow introduced his resolution. It is a protest that should be heeded.

GUILTY!

A QUARTER OF A MILLION FOR AN OFFICE.

The statement of Mrs. Ruth Hanna McCormick that she spent $252,572 in her successful campaign in the Illinois primaries for United States senator calls attention to the fact that since the federal corrupt practices act of 1910 was held unconstitutional insofar as it applied to primary elections, nothing has been done by congress to define the amount of money that can legally be spent in such campaigns. Congress, indeed, has virtually accepted the decision of the supreme court, that it has no control of primary elections, though two justices declined to go that far, and the composition of the court has changed considerably since then.

The inequality which the corrupt practices act of 1910 tried to ameliorate is thus still in operation. A millionaire can run for office with a great initial advantage over the candidate who has little or no money to spend. Mrs. McCormick herself realized this advantage, but in her statement to Senator Nye's investigating committee she attempts to minimize it by pointing out that she had no patronage to distribute—implying that Senator Deneen, her rival, was in control of a distribution of plums, and could thus rally votes without paying money to drum them up.

It is much to be doubted whether the power to give public office means as much in a campaign as it is the fashion to declare. Grover Cleveland said appointment to office made 10 enemies and one ingrate—a fair psychological reading. Certainly Senator Deneen's "machine," if he had one, proved very ineffective in delivering votes to him.

The only conclusion we can come to is that Mrs. McCormick was named in the primary because she had plenty of money to spend, and spent it freely. Even if she spent it legally; even if, insofar as she was concerned, we can accept her statement that not a vote was bought with it, nevertheless, the sum was too great to be spent even to save the United States from the world court, an object which in her eyes would have justified an even greater outpouring of wealth.

The question remains, and is emphasized, whether the United States senate is to be the goal of people of wealth and leisure, simply because they can afford to spend huge sums for political organization, and is to be made almost impossible of attainment by persons of great ability but little money. If it is, then as a democracy we are through.

THE RULES IN THE CASE.

When Vice President Curtis decided that a senator might say what he pleased about members of the house of representatives and Speaker Longworth decided that a member of the house might not criticize a senator each presiding officer enforced the rules which govern him.

The house, by vote of September 15, 1837, adopted the rules of parliamentary practice laid down by Jefferson's Manual so far as they were not inconsistent with its standing rules and the joint rules of the senate and house. In the section entitled Order in Debate in Jefferson's Manual, it is declared to be "the duty of the house, and more particularly of the speaker, to interfere immediately and not to permit expressions to go unnoticed which may give ground of complaint to the other house."

As the senate never adopted Jefferson's Manual as its guide in parliamentary procedure, and as in its own rules there are no restrictions on its rights to criticize the house of representatives, the vice president had no authority to call Senator George to order when he was saying what he thought of the conduct of the house leaders. Yet the senators out of their own sense of the proprieties have usually observed the rule of courtesy in their references to members of the co-ordinate body of congress.

The chap who has invented a parachute with which he can make a drop with his hands behind his back should now turn his attention to devising an umbrella that can be opened by a man with his arms full of bundles.

Success doesn't come without labor. It takes some work just to build up your sucker list.

When A CLEANSING MEDICINE Is Needed

"I HAVE taken Black-Draught all my life, whenever in need of a medicine for constipation," says Mrs. G. C. Burns, of Buna, Texas. "My mother and father used it in their home for years, and I was raised to think of it as the first thing if I had a headache or was constipated.

"At one time I had indigestion real bad. I was all out of sorts; my skin was sallow, and I had gas pains. After a course of Black-Draught, I got all right. I have given Black-Draught to my children, whenever they needed a medicine of the kind."

PRESIDENT TEXAS BANKERS BELIEVES REWARD EFFECTIVE

FORT WORTH, May 13.—(AP)—Describing the $5,000 reward fund offered by the Texas Bankers' Association for dead bank bandits as of salutary effect in diminishing the number of bank holdups in the state, A. A. Horne of Galveston, president of the Association, expressed himself as favoring its continuance in his annual report here today.

The president's report was given before a convention attendance reduced somewhat below expectations by the heavy rains last night which made roads in many parts of the state almost impassable and delayed the arrival of many of the bankers.

Calling for closer co-operation between small town and unit banks, Horne expressed the opinion that the convention should go on record as opposing further legislation toward expansion of banking privileges.

"The trend of banking toward larger units and centralization is finding its inception, it appears to me, in the egotism of some of our leaders," he said. "The building of gigantic banks is more a struggle for size than to meet the needs of a growing nation."

He recommended that all small banks should become members of a county oranization or regional clearing house to handle problems of mutual interest successfully and for the interchange of credit information. He described the unit form of banking as the kind best to serve a producing state such as the state of Texas.

"Productive loans, such as fill our note cases in Texas," he said, cannot properly be judged from a distance."

He indorsed the nomination of F. M. Law, president of the First National Bank of Houston, for the vice presidency of the American Bankers' Association, as an opportunity to give Texas and the Southwest its first president of the national organization in 1933.

Moody Pleads For Funds Aid Storm Victims

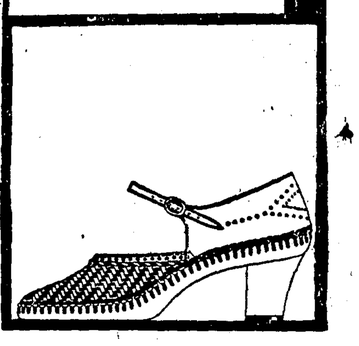

AUSTIN, May 13.—(AP)—Governor Moody today issued a second proclamation to the people of Texas calling on them to subscribe generously to the relief of persons in the area devastated by the tornado which struck in Hill, Navarro and McLennan counties last week. The proclamation urged that funds be subscribed quickly to aid Red Cross chapters in rehabilitating the section and pointed out that 100 per cent of the funds subscribed would be used in relief work.

It was issued in response to requests from the Mayor of Corsicana and William M. Baxter, Jr., of St. Louis, national director of Red Cross relief.

FUTURE OF TARIFF BILLS APPEAR BE EXTREMELY ROCKY

FLEXIBLE PROVISION TAKING AUTHORITY F R O M PRESIDENT MOOT QUESTION

WASHINGTON, May 15.—(AP)—Whether the tariff bill will be passed or not depended today, congressional leaders believed, on whether the senate's democratic-independent republican coalition can muster a majority for a final test on its amendmen revoking the president's authority to make emergency changes in import duty rates.

The republican conferees of the two houses have reached an impasse and before the end of the week the senate republican majority of the conference committee are to ask that they be relieved of an agreement restricting them from abandoning this amendment.

The coalition today was discussing whether it should oppose this request, or grant it and then oppose the conference report, if the amendment is not included. When the conference report is brought to the senate, the issue will be approval or rejection of the entire bill.

Republicans were of the opinion that the coalition could kill the bill by refusing the conferees a free hand and the democrats replied that the republicans were willing to let it die. Some members of the minority party even went so far as to say that President Hoover would prefer the existing tariff law to the pending measure.

LIMIT PLACED ON OIL PRODUCTION IN TWO COUNTIES

FORT WORTH, May 15. —(AP)—Necessity of curtailing production to meet reduction of pipe line outlets, prompted the proration advisory committee of Howard and Glasscock counties to place a maximum limit of 200 barrels daily during the remainder of May on all wells in the field and authorized E. E. Andrews, proration umpire, to enforce the order at a meeting here today.

A committee composed of H. C. Hardison, California company, Midland; F. M. Jacobson, Continental Oil company, and C. W. Tomlinson, Schermerhorn Oil company of Ardmore, Okla., was appointed by M. B. Sweeney, Sun Oil company of Dallas, to arrange a permanent proration policy to fit reduced pipe line runs scheduled for Howard-Glasscock field.

Decision of Humble Pipe Line company to reduce its runs from approximately 6,500 barrels daily to 3,500 barrels daily brought about the acute situation.

VERDICT RETURNED FOR DEFENDANTS IN HALF MILLION CASE

"generally known" the state's republican leader and the Hidalgo county's democratic chieftain had an understanding to the effect that Creager would discourage local opposition to Baker if Baker would return the favor for the republicans at national election time.

The committeeman himself denied the charges from the stand.

Creager left the courtroom quickly after the verdict and made no statement. His counsel would not say whether an appeal would be made, explaining that it had six months in which to decide.

Charles E. Kelley, chief attorney for the magazine, declared his side was ready to try at any time a companion suit, also asking a half million dollars, on another article printed, called "A Job for Jack."

Creager issued a written statement later saying that while he regretted the verdict it was evident the jury accepted the explanation of the magazine that it never intended to imply he had any connection with alleged graft in Hidalgo county or to cast any reflection on his integrity.

Arguments Closed Late Wednesday

COURT HOUSE, Brownsville, May 15.—(AP)—Legal warfare over the $500,000 libel suit was in the past today and the jury tried to decide whether R. B. Creager of Brownsville, republican national committeeman from Texas, had been defamed by Collier's Weekly, and, if so, to what extent he had been damaged financially.

The last speech was made yesterday and late in the afternoon, the men in the jury box were sent away to deliberate.

During nine hot days they had heard testimony concerning Hidalgo county and Creager's asserted political alliance with Sheriff A. Y. Baker's democratic administration, accused in the magazine's article "High Handed and Hell Bent" with bossing some 60,000 people as he saw fit.

Most of the witnesses testified about political conditions, many testifying for Collier's that it was "generally known" the state's republican leader and Hidalgo county's democratic chieftain had an understanding to the effect that Creager would discourage local opposition to Baker if Baker would return the favor for the republicans at national election time.

The committee denied the charge from the stand.

JACKSON SCHOOL ANNUAL BANQUET IS HELD THURSDAY

Annual banquet tendered the Corsicana board of education by the home economics department of the George W. Jackson school was held Thursday at noon in the domestic art room of the school.

A splendid program, consisting for the most part of musical selections by students of the school, was presented. A delicious four-course dinner was served by members of the home economics department to the members of the school board and visitors present.

The male quartet of the school was first presented in a series of selections followed by the welcome address by Robert Robertson junior in the school. Consuella Norton read "Thanatopsis."

The Harris sisters, popular negro singers, were presented in a number of vocal selections. Several numbers by the splendid chorus of the school followed.

The toy orchestra, composed of children in the first, second and third grades, played several musical numbers. The tiny tots had a variety of toy instruments and their numbers drew instant applause from the guests.

H. D. Fillers, superintendent of Corsicana schools, in response to the welcoming address stated that the negro high school was a class A institution and that people in Corsicana were as proud of the work done in the school as of the famous Jackson Bears, who have breezed through three years undefeated on the gridiron.

The chorus, composed of twenty-five well trained voices, captured the fancy of the guests with a number of old time negro spiritual songs.

Following were guests at the annual affair: Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Fillers. Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Shell, C. T. Banister, W. P. McCammon, each of whom voiced appreciation for the program and dinner.

Many Miners Beileved Dead Blast Thursday

WASHINGTON, Penn., May 15.—(AP)—An explosion occurred in the P. & W. mine of the Powhatan Coal Company of Cleveland at Avella today. First reports said 17 men were killed. One miner was brought to the Washington hospital suffering from burns from which it was said he could not recover.

The injured miner, Andrew Kusis, said the explosion occurred in Sec. 17 of the workings. About 400 men were in the mine at the time. Kusis said he believed 17 men were killed.

TRAMP STEAMER IS CAPTURED CARRYING BIG LIQUOR CARGO

CREW, ARMED WITH RIFLES OFFERED NO RESISTANCE TO COAST GUARDSMEN

GREEN BAY, Wis., May 15.—(AP)—The tramp steamer Ansterberg, kith 4,000 cases of Canadian beer and ale aboard valued at $600,000, was captured late yesterday by a crew of the Plum Island coast guard station as it attempted run into Green Bay from Lake Michigan.

The crew of six men, armed with rifles, offered no resistance when the coast guardsmen boarded the ship.

Captain M. A. Jackson of the Plum Island station, sighted the ship, which had been painted black, late yesterday. It was running at top speed.

A coast guard cutter gave chase and soon overhauled the steamer as it was attempting to run the straights into Green Bay at the tip of the Door county peninsula.

The Ansterberg cleared Goderich, Ont., last Friday, destination unknown, and on Tuesday Lake Michigan coast guard station received word the ship was running rum into Lake Michigan port.

The steamer, known as Ansterberg No. 18, was taken to Washington Island, near Plum Island, where it is held pending word from authorities in Washington.

GREATER NEED FOR FARMER TO ORGANIZE NOW THOMPSON SAYS

PLAINVIEW, May 15.—(AP)—There never has been more urgent need for farmers to organize than now, Sam H. Thompson, president of the American Farm Bureau told a district convention of the bureau here today.

"We can take lessons from business interests merging into larger combinations, pooling capital, equipment and man-power to lower operating costs and obtain other advantages impossible with individualistic concerns," he said.

The speaker declared remedial steps for the agricultural group must include reduction of the "excessive burden of taxation on farm lands," improved transportation to markets, an adequate tariff on farm products, correction of the weaknesses and faults in the system of financing and establishment of an efficient co-operative marketing system.

CLANDESTINE LOVE AFFAIR REVEALED; TESTIMONY CLOSED

"Yes, always — nearly always happy—John always was kind to me."

"During the last three years has any change come over your husband?"

"Yes. John has stayed away from home a great deal and has become addicted to almost habitual drinking."

"Did you know Miss Lehlia Highsmith?"

"Yes, she came to my house in January, 1925."

"What was the occasion?"

"She came to take dictation from Judge Brady."

"At that time did you know of any unlawful relations between Miss Highsmith and your husband?"

"No sir, not at that time."

"Who procured a job for this girl as stenographer in the commission of appeals?"

Secured Job For Girl

"I did. I heard there was an opening—she said she was supporting her aged grandmother—I wanted to help her. I called on the judges of the court, and they said they would try to give her the place. Yes, I asked for the job for her—and she got it."

"When did you first learn your husband was living with this girl?"

"One day John telephoned me and told me h was at an apartment house at 210 Tenth. He asked me to come there. Upstairs he told me to sit down—that he wanted to make a clean breast—"

Here the witness faltered.

"Oh, he told me all about it—he said he had been living there in an apartment with Lehlia Highsmith. He said he wanted to make a clean breast of it all and come back home and live right.

"I could see that he was drunk, and I made him lie down. I went to the police station. I wanted to get an officer to take him in charge so he wouldn't get out on the street in his drunken condition. When I came back he was not there. I went to the police station, and they were booking him there on a drunk charge.

"They let me take him home. He was nervous and irrational. He insisted we drive over and get Lehlia. He said he wanted her to apologize to me like he had. There was nothing to do but humor him so we drove by some place where he knew he could find her. She hesitated about coming, but when I insisted she accompanied us back home. She was drinking, nearly drunk.

"After a while she came in the room where I was and said she wanted to talk to me. She admitted she had been living with Judge Brady, but she said she wanted to break away—said she knew it wasn't right. She asked me what I was going to do now that I had found out about their illicit relations. I told her I was going to file suit for divorce.

Promised Let Husband Alone

"Lehlia begged me not to do that. She made me a promise to stay away from him. I asked her if Judge Brady was responsible for her downfall. She said he was not and admitted to me that she had engaged in affairs with other men. She promised me—but, Oh, she didn't keep it."

"I put my arms around her and told her I would not reveal her shame to the world. I also told her I would not file suit for divorce provided she would refrain from seeing him any more. She promised."

"How did Judge Brady treat you after that?"

"He was much different for a while. He took me to shows and stayed home and was kind to me. It was not long until I saw him meet her again. At that time I told him he had better see my lawyer next morning.

"And I told her she had betrayed me and had broken faith about her promise. I told her she was nothing but a common prostitute."

Threatened to End Life

Continuing on another subject, Mrs. Brady said that not long afterward Brady told her he was "going away."

"What did he mean that he was going away?"

"He meant he was going to commit suicide. He left the house before I knew it and when I found him he was wandering around in a nearby cemetery. I took him back home and put him to bed."

The defense then got up to the night of the killing.

The witness said her husband came home that night in a taxicab after she had refused to go after him when he called and told her he was at the Tenth street apartment.

Didn't Come Home

"I had told him I would not come there again because the last time I went there looking for him they turned the lights out on me," she explained.

"He was drunk when he came home."

"When did you next see your husband?"

"I sat up all night—I waited all night, and he didn't come home. Next morning they told me what happened—I couldn't believe it."

"Mrs. Brady, do you love your husband?"

She glanced over at her husband as he too cried aloud and nervously twisted his head from one side to another as he wiped his eyes with his handkerchief.

"Of course, I love him."

Lie Is Passed By Attorneys; Both Fined

DALLAS, May 15.—(AP)—W. I. Ford of Dallas, vice-president of the Interurban Express company, was called as the first defense witness today in the John W. Brady murder trial here.

He testified he was in Austin the night Miss Lehlia Highsmith was alleged to have been stabbed to death by Brady, a former judge of a state court of civil appeals. He said he saw the defendant in the lobby of the Stephen F. Austin hotel. He testified that Brady appeared to be under the influence of liquor and "wobbled" as he walked about the lobby.

Sam Pondrom, son of A. J. Pondrom, Dallas bank official, testified that he married a young lady who had been reared in the Brady home. Mrs. Pondrum, the young lady referred to, testified for the defense last Tuesday.

The witness testified he had frequently visited in the Brady home and that he had noticed a material change in Brady's mental condition in recent years.

Pondrom told of being at the Brady home one time when Miss Highsmith was there. Mrs. Brady was in Dallas at that time, he said. Both Brady and Miss Highsmith were indulging in highballs and continued to partake of drinks together rather liberally, he testified. The witness said he took a drink with them when Brady insisted

Attorneys Fined

District Attorney William McCraw and Maury Hughes, defense attorney, were each fined $100 by Judge Charles Pippen when each hurled the epithet "That's a lie" at the other during the examination of Ben Cordell of San Antonio, grand jury bailiff of Bexar county working under the district attorney of that county.

Cordell had testified to being out with Brady and Miss Highsmith when all three were drinking in October prior to the stabbing. He said that Brady acted like a "wild man" during the evening.

McCraw was taking the witness to task for not having given the information during the first trial in Austin and asked why it was he had suddenly appeared as a witness.

Hughes jumped to his feet and asked what the district attorney would say if he knew Lamar Seeligson, district attorney of Bexar county, had called him (Hughes) on the telephone Wednesday night and given the information about Cordell in "justice and fairness to us."

McCraw said he did not believe Seeligson had done this.

"That's a lie; he did call," shouted Hughes.

"You're another," screamed McCraw.

During this clash Judge Pippen ordered a recess and the fines were paid.

HIGH WATERS BRING NEED OF RELIEF TO ATTENTION OFFICIALS

just north of Dawson and then to Corsicana, slightly above the present route of the Corbet lateral slab and about two miles north of Purdon. It is thought that in the event that the Purdon road district, which voted $135,000 road bonds in 1928, will build a road connecting with the Corsicana-Corbet lateral road to the town of Purdon and then build a road to the site of the re-located Highway 31, a distance of two miles, the state highway department will in all probability build a fine bridge spanning Richland creek on the new route and will build the road from a point north of Dawson to a point north of Purdon.

Might Change Route.

It is thought that the state would then change the maintenance designation to that route on State Highway 31, using the Corbet and Purdon laterals as State Highway 31 and also using the route through Hill county as at present and on to Dawson.

State engineers are adverse to constructing a bridge and road through the Richland creek bottom directly west of Purdon en route to Dawson due to the length of the bottom and the large expense necessary to make an all-weather road.

Nothing has been done in the Purdon district toward the securing of the proposed road as noted above. This re-routing of the road would bring all of the east and west traffic through Purdon. The original petition of the Purdon road district called for a gravel road northward from Purdon for two miles, and the state would in all probability accept and maintain this gravel portion, as is being done in other cases.

Navarro county has been asked to put up $63,263.88 as her portion of the paving of 6.961 miles of National Highway 75 from Richland to the Navarro-Freestone county line near Streetman. Navarro county is putting up only one-third of the cost, which makes the pavement of this stretch approximate $189,791.66. The contract on this road is to be awarded by the state highway commission at its meeting next week.

Cost $38,000 Per Mile.

The drainage structures and grading of the road cost $77,331.81, which brings the total to $267,123.47 and does not include the cost of engineering and the purchase of right of ways. County Judge Clay Nash stated Thursday. This is an average of slightly over $38,000 per mile and no large bridges or other drainage structures are included on the route.

Road work in the Navarro county area has been stopped for some time due to the continued rains, and about all the state highway maintenance crews can do is to pull motorists and other travelers over the flooded roads where the creeks are overflowing.

It is understood that the contractor who is to construct the $250,000 bridge on State highway No. 31, spanning Trinity river between Navarro and Henderson counties, has not started actual construction on the bridge. A crew of workmen were grubing and clearing the right-of-way preparatory to the beginning of the bridge. The Cotton Belt railroad has not finished the construction of a spur track to the site of the bridge, it was stated.

The state highway department is defraying $200,000 of the cost of the bridge and Navarro and Henderson counties appropriated $25,000 each for the bridge. The bridge is on the new location of the highway and is just north of the Cotton Belt bridge.

MURDER CASE CALLED.

GALVESTON, May 15—(AP)—The case of John W. Adams, former deputy sheriff charged with the murder of Mrs. Marie Doherty here March 6, was called for trial here today. A venire of 250 had been summoned.

Oil Operations in Freestone Active

TEAGUE, May 15.—(Spl.)—Oil operations still continue active in this section. The C. F. Lytle test one mile north of Dew has been engaged for some time in a reaming job. At present time the well is at a depth of approximately 5,000 feet with all indications favorable.

The O. W. Killam test on the Edwards ranch is drilling at a depth of around 2,000 feet. A fishing job and other minor troubles have caused several cessations in drilling.

proper words and temper and immorality. In the latter case, unless the charges could be fully proved, the jury was perforce obliged to acquit him, even though the evidence clearly showed that his actions had been highly improper, and even though his superiors were convinced of the truth of the immorality charges.

Offered By Baltimore.

The memorial was offered by the Baltimore conference. The opposition principally was centered around a protest at trying a man on one charge and convicting him on another, but the logic of those who said this was in many cases permissable under civil law prevailed.

There was scant opposition to the proposal to strike the words "serve" and "obey" from the marriage ritual, its proponents advancing it as a change which would be approved universally as in keeping with the trend of the times.

In agreeing to leave the terms of presiding elders as they now are, the conference adopted a minority report of the itinerancy committee as opposed to the majority report which would have taken off the unwritten time limitation and making the elders' terms changeable at the will of their superintendents.

Several other memorials dealing with the workings of the Epworth League were adopted.

Presiding Elders Refused Extension

DALLAS, May 15.—(AP)—The first minority report of a committee of the quadrennial general conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, came today from the committee on itineranecy which asked that the terms of presiding elders be extended to life.

The majority report of the committee, headed by Forney Hutchinson of Oklahoma City, favored a memorial to limit their terms to four years. With the submission of the minority report, a long controversy ensued on the conference floor.

The conference adopted the remainder of the report of its nationalization committee regarding the status of the church in Cuba, Africa and Europe. The committee had recommended that the present missionary status in those countries be left unchanged, on the theory that they had not reached a stage where they would be capable of selfgovernment. Other recommendations adopted had to do with changing church laws to take care of the autonomous churches for Brazil, Mexico and Korea approved yesterday.

Charged Sending Liquor in Carload Beets From Valley

ST. LOUIS, May 15.—(AP)—Harry Kauffman of the Laredo Plantations, Inc., Laredo, Texas, was arrested by department of justice agents as he alighted from a train here last night and was arraigned today on a charge of transporting liquor found yesterday in a carload of beets sent here from Laredo. He was freed on $2,000 bond.

leaving large pools of water standing on the floors, and making it impractical for the children to attend classes. A slight delay in concluding the insurance settlement has also delayed the letter of a contract for a temporary roof on the school. Superintendent W. V. Harrison announced late Wednesday that classes would be resumed at the earliest possible moment. In the meantime, the boys of the school are aiding in the cleaning of debris from the residence sections of the town.

A new switchboard was installed by the telephone company at Frost Wednesday, materially improving the service, the service is gradually being brought back to normal.

Recommendations for permanent relief on two cases of storm sufferers were presented to the advisory board Wednesday afternoon and others are being prepared as rapidly as possible. Another meeting of the advisory committee will be held Saturday afternoon.

Red Cross Checks Complete.

In the meantime, the Red Cross staffs in the various areas in the storm district have been completed and complete reports on the cases are being prepared for final decision. Miss Esther Clark, nutritionist, reported to the Frost headquarters Thursday, and will direct the feeding of the workmen and refugees and members of the staff. Mrs. C. B. Jones of the disaster staff from St. Louis has been added to the headquarters staff in the chamber of commerce at Corsicana.

Quarters for workmen have been established in box cars at Frost to afford more substantial covering during the continued rainy season.

The medical staff of the Red Cross at Frost have issued preliminary notices that the time for administering the second shots of the typhoid inoculations started Friday and urged all those to return for the remainder of the treatment who had taken the first shot.

Additional Aid For Storm Stricken Area

Dr. M. Smotherman, local veterinarian, has announced that he will examine and treat all injured animals in the Frost storm area, giving his services where needed free to the owners of such animals, as his contribution toward rehabilitation in that area.

Scott Electric company wired the large temporary store building recently completed at actual cost of material only, donating the time and all profits on materials, it was stated Thursday, this being the contribution of this firm and its workmen in aiding the storm victims.

ROAD CONTRACTS TO BE LET AT MEETING STATE COMMISSION

CONCRETE PAVEMENT PART OF NATIONAL HIGHWAY 75 IN NAVARRO COUNTY DUE

AUSTIN, May 15.—Ten projects have been announced for which the highway commission will receive bids and award contracts at its meeting May 19 and 20. They call for the construction of sixty-five miles of new highways at an estimated cost of $1,195,000, of which forty-four miles will be concrete pavement to cost approximately $1,050,000. Two bridges and several small maintenance projects complete the list.

This small total is in contrast with the large amounts awarded during the last few months. April contracts were nearly $3,000,000, while those for March approximated $2,000,000.

Awards during the next few months will be comparatively small. Practically all the maintenance work to be done this summer has been placed under contract and the work can not be done during cold weather. A low balance of funds available for highway work will curtail the award of contracts until the new fiscal year starts in September. Contracts awarded previously this year for bridges exceed the yearly average and all bridges contracted for during the remainder of this year will be small projects.

Warehouse at Dallas.

Bids will be received this month for the erection of a warehouse at Dallas, headquarters of the newest maintenance division. Contracts for three projects will be awarded May 19. They are:

Mitchell county, fifteen miles of concrete pavement on Highway No. 1 from Westbrook to a point 6.4 miles east of Colorado.

Mitchell county, 5.2 miles of crushed run, broken stone base course, waterbound macadam surface course with triple bituminous surface treatment on concrete pave as an alternate on highway No. 1 from 6.4 miles east of Colorado to Nolan county line.

Fort Bend county, 4.5 miles of grading, drainage structures and concrete pavement on highway No. 36, from Rosenberg to Pleak school.

Projects for which contracts are to be awarded May 20, are:

Navarro coutny, 6.9 miles of concrete pavement on highway No. 32 from Freestone county line near Streetman to Richland.

Ellis county, 12.5 miles of concrete pavement with double bituminous surface treatment on soft limestone base course on highway No. 6 from Forreston to Hill county line.

Bridges Over Creeks

Tarrant county, 370 feet on highway No. 121, consisting of concrete bridges over Big Fossil creek and Bear creek.

Tarrant county, two miles of grading and small drainage structures on highway No. 121 from junction of highway No. 1 northeast 1.7 miles, and approaches to Big Bear creek.

Collin county, 7.9 miles of double bituminous surface treatment on highway No. 39 from Collin-Denton county line east 7.9 miles.

Cooke county, 14.2 miles of three-tenths gallon seal coat on highway No. 40 from south city limits of Gainesville to Cooke-Denton county line.

Hardin county, 12.7 miles of double bituminous surface treatment on highway No. 40 from an intersection with highways Nos. 8 and 40 to Kountze.

GREATER ACTIVITY AGAINST NORTH NICARAGUA GROUPS RECOMMENDED BY OFFICIALS

MANAGUA, Nicaragua, May 15.—(AP)—United States marines and the marine-officered national guard have recommended intensive activity in Northern Nicaragua against groups described in an official statement as bandits. In six encounters between May 5 and May 12 sixteen bandits were killed.

Commander General Douglas McDougal of the Nicaraguan national guard and a colonel of marines in an official report of the encounters said that all the men killed wore red hat bands as their only insignia. He said he did not believe there was any central leader to the military opposition.

An investigation is being made of unconfirmed rumors that Augustino Sandino, former self-exiled insurgent chief, has returned to Nicaragua from Merida, Yucatan, by way of Salvador, and is now directing another insurgent force. The cabinet, meeting Tuesday, continued for sixty days the state of siege in the northern departments of Matagalpa, Chontales, Jinotega, Esteli, and the Segovias.

Sandino to Return.

VERA CRUZ, Mexico, May 15.—(AP)—Advices have been received here that the Nicaraguan insurgent leader, Augustino Sandino, will be found again shortly in Nicaragua. He and his aides are supposed to have passed through here incognito April 25 from the place of self-exile in Merida, Yucatan, and to be now in the interior of Guatemala.

Mexico City dispatches said that Sandino and his adies had left Mexico by way of airplanes for the department of Nuevo Segovia, Nicaragua.

Citizens of Two Counties Celebrate Highway Opening

MILES, May 15.—(AP)—Citizens of Tom Green and Runnels counties gathered here today to celebrate the opening of Highway No. 30 from Ballinger to San Angelo. State highway commission members and contractors were the counties' guests.

A pageant was planned for the celebration showing the evolution of transportation, from an Indian on his painted pony moving further west to make room for the "pale face" to an attack on a "stagecoach."

San Angelo planned a banquet in honor of members of the state highway commission and visiting contractors and engineers after the celebration here.

BETTER PASTURES CONTEST ENTRY TO BE JUDGED MAY 21

According to information received Thursday morning, E. A. Miller, extension agronomist for Texas A. and M. college will be in Navarro county Wednesday afternoon, May 21, to inspect the county entry in the East Texas Better Pastures contest.

The group of inspectors will come from Falls county to the J. T. Stroder farm, nine miles south of Frost, and a mass meeting of all those interested in pastures are invited to be present.

Calvin Pigg, demonstration agent is enlisting the support of a number of the farmers in the county, and plans to have a representative group in attendance.

Beautification Plan West Collin Street To Be Presented

All property owners on West Collin street from Beaton to Eighteenth streets have been invited to attend a meeting at the Corsicana chamber of commerce Friday morning at 10:30.

Plans for a "White Way" for the street will be presnted at that time, and a general discussion of beautification of the street, which will probably include widening of portions of the street.

Copy of Daily Sun Found in Cornerstone Of Austin School

A copy of the Corsicana Daily Sun, dated May 3, 1916, was found Wednesday afternoon by Rochelle Rouse on the Stephen F. Austin school grounds, evidently coming from the cornerstone of the building which workmen had torn down earlier in the day.

A number of other small trinkets, placed in the stone by individuals before the cornerstone was set in 1916 were also found nearby by the curio seeker.

MAKE THIS MODEL AT HOME

The Corsicana Daily Sun 15c Practical Pattern
PATTERN 1894

By ANNE ADAMS

Isn't this a ravishing little model for best? The unusual capes back and front are cleverly cut to allow chubby rounded shoulders to peep through. The dainty lace edging adds a soft touch and the pert ribbon bow is extremely smart. The tuck above the hem is practical for lengthening as well as an attractive skirt trimming.

Pattern 1894 is lovely made of silk or cotton fabric...voile, organdy, swiss, dimity, batiste, crepe de chine, georgette, etc. The pastel shades are most popular with youngsters this season.

May be obtained only in sizes 2, 4, 6 and 8. Size 2 requires 2 3-4 yards of 36 inch material and 2 1-4 yards narrow lace.

No dressmaking experience is necessary to make this model with our pattern. Yardage for every size, and simple, exact instructions are given.

Send FIFTEEN CENTS (15c) in coins carefully wrapped, or stamps, for each pattern. Be sure to write plainly your NAME, ADDRESS, STYLE NUMBER and SIZE wanted.

Our PATTERN BOOK of NEW SPRING and SUMMER STYLES is FIFTEEN CENTS, but only TEN CENTS when ordered with a ers to The Corsicana Daily Sun Pattern Department, 243 West 17th St., New York City.

KENTUCKY DERBY ENTRY LIST CUT AS DAY APPROACHES

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 15.—(AP)—The probable Kentucky Derby field narrowed down to sixteen thoroughbreds today, with three listed as doubtful starters, as owners and trainers definitely withdrew their eligibles, for various reasons, from Saturday's feature race at Churchill Downs.

Gallant Fox still ruled the favorite today to capture the $50,000 added stake, despite a poor workout yesterday in which he showed a dislike for the mud, because of his victory in the preakness at Pimlico last week.

Gallant Fox, owned by William Woodward, of Chicago, sulked during his workout yesterday, and failed to respond to urging by Earl Sande, premier jockey who rode him to victory in the preakness and hopes to repeat Saturday. Notable speedy moves were made by Nash and Partridge's High Foot, E. R. Bradley's Buckeye Poet, William Ziegler, Jr.'s Gone Away, and Johnson N. Camden's Sydney.

Kilgerry, W. T. Wagoner's eligible which pulled a tendon in a recent workout, is being carefully handled by his trainers in hopes he will be in condition to enter the big race Saturday, but he was still listed among the doubtful starters.

HOUSTON SECURES GEORGE PAYNE FOR PITCHING STAFF

(By The Associated Press.)

The weather man, who for two days batted .500 against the Texas league, fell off somewhat yesterday in his work, and was able to halt only the second game of a double header at Houston, and another at Waco. Four games were played as Beaumont claimed a good day and celebrated with a double header.

Perhaps it was the announcement by President Fred Ankerman of the cold cash purchase of George Washington Payne from Indianapolis that buffaloed the weather man, for Payne's motto in the Texas league used to be, "I work all the time."

Houston had a great day, walloping the Shreveporters 6 to 4 in an errorless game. Hunt, the Buff center fielder was the swatting hero getting three blows that scored two mates in addition to scoring three times himself.

At Waco, where it was dry enough to play for a couple of days, the rain fell yesterday, and the Dallas Steers and the Cubs were idle.

Indians Lose Another.

About the only immediate results was to allow San Antonio to get a firmer grip on the cellar in its battle with the Steers for that position. The Papooses dropped one to the Panthers from Cowtown, 4 to 2.

This game was the outstanding game of the day in the league, running twelve innings and developing into a pitchers' battle between Henry Hardaway of Fort Worth (a Dallas castoff) and Chaplin of Santone.

The customers at Beaumont saw two games in which three pitchers hurled three hit baseball. The brilliant hurling of Wiltse, while pitchers took the first behind the they slammed out 11 blows off of the slants of Burns. In the nightcap Steengrafe of the Oilers and Martin of the Exporters both hurled three hit ball with Martin winning by virtue of Kade's home run in the fourth inning. The scores were Wichita Falls 1-0, Beaumont 0-1.

BLOOMING GROVE WINS CLOSE GAME OVER OLD REVIVALS

BLOOMING GROVE, May 15.—(SPL).—In an exciting pitchers' battle between Biggers and Spurlock here Tuesday afternoon, the Blooming Grove nine defeated the Whites Chapel team, 2-1. Both sides obtained six hits, but Biggers got the best of the battle by striking out eight men while Spurlock sent four back via the strikeout route and walked four men.

Biggers was the leading hitter of the fray, with a double and single in four attempts. Bob Burns, Blooming Grove centerfielder, secured the other extra-base hit, a double.

Clovis Stover and Atchison led the hitting for the Whites Chapel nine with two singles in four attempts.

A double play, Biggers to Melton to McSpadden, helped Biggers win the decision.

Roaming the Realm of County Sports

By DELMORE OLSEN.

The Blooming Grove nine defeated Whites Chapel Tuesday afternoon, 2-1, in a pitchers' duel between Biggers and Spurlock on the Blooming Grove diamond. Biggers bot the best of the twirling argument with eight strikeouts and no walks, while Spurlock struck out four men and walked the same numbebr.

The win puts Blooming Grove up in the fight for the league leadership with an average of .600 trailing the league leading Humble Oilers who have two wins and no losses, and the Magnolia Oilers with four wins and one loss.

The loss put the Whites Chapel nine in the cellar with two wins and five losses, an average of .286. The American Well nine is in fifth place with two wins and four losses.

The standing of the league will be changed as a result of games this week end. The schedule calls for contests between the Magnolia Oilers and Humble Sunday on the Humble diamond. This game should decide the question for a time on the league leadership. Saturday afternoon, the Humble nine goes to Bazette and the Magnolia team plays host to the American Well nine.

Saturday afternoon, the Whites Chapel and Blooming Grove nines renew hostilities on the Blooming Grove field, and on the following day, play at Whites Chapel. Bazette will be the guests of the American Well nine Sunday at the Municipal Park.

Some of the players having extremely high batting averages during the first four or five games, are finding the going harder now as the pitchers are warming up to their work, and some major operations are due on several alining averages during the next few games.

Interest in the baseball league in the county is increasing and large crowds are on hand for each contest. The fans in the county enjoy seeing the "simon pures" in action and if the race tightens up, the attendance at games should be extremely large.

During the first games, the pitchers found the going hard, with the opposing batsmen hitting all offerings far and wide, but with the advent of hot weather and the old arms get to feeling right, the batters are the ones who will find going extremely difficult. This condition exists in every league, the first few games are the batters' delight and nightmares for the pitchers. But as the season progresses, the healthy batting averages of a number of ambitious ball players undergo that aforementioned major operation.

The Magnolia Oilers lost a valuable man last Sunday when Gene Tyner sprained his ankle severely when he checked his slide into second base in the fourth inning of the initial contest. It is not certain how long he will be out of the lineup, but is a certainty that it will be for several weeks.

Various teams are strengthening themselves for the gruelling campaign ahead, and new players are being added by the managers in an effort to find a winning combination.

Various golf tournaments scheduled for May are having trouble in being completed, the continued bad weather conditions interfering with matches and conclusion of various flight championship matches. The Lakeview Golf and Country Club will stage it's annual county tournament in the near future. Qualifying rounds are being carded Thursday afternoon and players wishing to qualify have until Sunday evening. Play will start in the four flights Monday afternoon and continue until the championship of each flight as well as consolations are completed.

Attractive prizes for the flight championships an consolations are offered, and it is expected that a large number of local golfers will be entered in the tournament.

SCHEDULE COUNTY LEAGUE GAMES FOR PRESENT WEEK-END

Schedule for games in the Navarro County Amateur Baseball league for Saturday and Sunday was announced Wednesday afternoon by A. L. Springfield, secretary and treasurer of the league.

Umpire assignments were also announced for the week end.

A number of extra games are to be played during the next week or ten days by teams comprising the league to make up for the rain out contests of the past three weeks.

Following is the schedule for the week end:

Whites Chapel at Blooming Grove—Mash umpire.
Magnolia and American Well—Municipal Park—George umpire.

Sunday.

Blooming Grove at Whites Chapel—Mash umpire.
Bazette and American Well at Municipal Park—George umpire.
Magnolia at Humble—Lindstrom umpire.

CORSICANA
IS GROWING FAST

Almost doubled population during past ten years.

1930 Population---For Greater Corsicana

20,703

A gain over 1920 of 9,347 people

Federal census within city limits	15,195
Census adjacent suburbs - - -	5,508
Total, - - - - - -	20,703

(The census of the adjacent suburbs of Corsicana were taken by the Daily Sun and adopted by the Corsicana Chamber of Commerce.)

The city limits of Corsicana have not been extended for over twenty years, and the city has been bulging over its corporate limits in all directions during all this time

Over 34 per cent Gain Within City Limits;

Over 80 per cent Gain In Greater Corsicana

The normal and average gain of a community between the census periods of ten years is from 10 to 15 per cent increase which is evidence that Corsicana is growing rapidly.

Corsicana is the County Seat of Navarro County, which is eighth in county population in Texas, and is the trading center of a trade territory of over 200,000 people.

In addition to a substantial building program now going on, with more to follow there will be spent this summer on public improvements over $600,000.00.

CONSIDERING that this is the population of the city in normal times, and there are no oil or other booms of any kind responsible for this substantial gain makes this growth of the city all the more important.

All of this big gain was made regardless of great handicap of bad roads.

Also, this gain demonstrates without a doubt that Corsicana is growing fast with a safe and substantial background for continued growth.

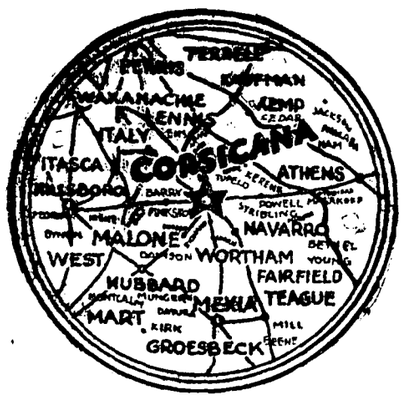

With the new system of Federal, State and County permanent roads now under construction, together with the fact that Corsicana is the trading wholesale and retail center of a wide agricultural area in the Black Land Belt of Central Texas, there is every reason to predict a brighter future than ever before.

GOOD ROADS MAKE A CITY, and before the year is out almost all of our serious road problems will be over and forgotten, and Corsicana will be well on its way to double its population before the next census.

The increase of census alone within the city limits is more than the entire population of the 1930 census of Teague, which gives one an idea of what a growth we have enjoyed during the past ten years.

In addition to being an agricultural center, Corsicana is also an oil and industrial center.

Corsicana is an important center of population, and dominates a wide trade territory all its own.

Let everyone keep on pushing and looking forward for a greater city and we will soon reach our goal, out of which all will enjoy the benefits.

MILITARY LEADER SAYS PROTECTION BE GIVEN BLACKS

"IF WE HAVE TO SHOOT TO KILL WE WILL DO IT," COL. DAVIDSON STATED

SHERMAN, May 13.—(AP)—Typewritten warnings advising negroes that unless they left Sherman within 24 hours their homes would be destroyed were found by national guardsmen tacked on several residences in an outlying negro section today.

Another warning was found at the business palce of a Sherman contractor who employed a number of negroes. It advised the con- that he must discharge his negro workers within 36 hours.

Col. L. S. Davidson, Provost marshal, advised the negroes and the contractor to disregard the warnings and reiterated his statement that he lives and property of negroes would be protected.

"If we have to shoot to kill to do it we will," the colonel said.

He said guards in the negro section had been strengthened and the troops had been ordered to shoot anyone they caught attempting incendiarism.

The officer said the military court of inquiry had some leads as to last night's activities and that it was prepared to make a thorough investigation.

State rangers continued their round-up of suspected members of last Friday's mob, three arrests before noon bringing the total to 33. Those arrested today were Web Purdom of Van Alstyine, and Jimmie Arnold and G. R. Alsup, both of Sherman. All were docketed on a charge of "incendiarism and inciting to riot."

Military authorities still were of the opinion martial law could be lifted by end of the week unless there were disturbances more serious than the posting of anonymous warnings.

AUSTIN, May 13.—(AP)—Governor Dan Moody was awaiting word from Sherman today before taking any action toward reducing military forces there.

The governor indicated martial law would be maintained at Sherman at least for the next few days unless reports from investigating officials recommended removal of the troops.

SHERMAN, May 13.—(AP)—Pleased with results of the first day of the military investigation into the riots which resulted in the death of a negro who attacked a white woman and the burning of the Grayson county court house, Col. L. S. Davidson announced that 30 witnesses had been called for today's continuance of the investigation.

The city has been under martial law since Saturday night.

Ten witnesses yesterday willingly answered questions, the colonel said, and the entire city of Sherman was co-operating. The immediate purpose of the investigation is to determine the mob's member

Sherman was quiet last night and heavy rains assisted the troopers in their work of gradually helping the town return to a normal basis.

The guant brick shell of the court house still stood, its life having been prolonged by the rain. Deeming it unsafe, the authorities had ordered it dynamited yesterday, but this was postponed, due to the rain.

Texas Rangers had arrested 29 in connection with the riots, but only 28 were held in jail as one man was released to appear when wanted.

Col. Davidson explained the court was a fact finding body which held secret sessions similar to a grand jury. Its findings will be given to civl authorities for the filing of charges, he said. He said the court's work probably would end this week and that he saw no reason for continuing military rule past that time.

KNOB KNOCKERS ATTEMPT TO OPEN FIRST BAPTIST SAFE

For the third time in a period of two years, knob knockers attempted to break open the safe at the First Baptist church late Sunday night or early Monday morning. Nothing was taken, due to an automatic locking device on the inside of the large door which held the door fast after the combination had ben jimmied.

The attempted robbery was discovered Monday morning, and police were immediately notified.

Entrance to the building was effected through a window in the primary department at the rear of the church, the same way used in previous robberies.

The pastor's study was also entered and papers disarranged, but nothing was taken.

The safe held approximately $240.00 in currency and $232.00 in checks Sunday night.

The safe had previously been entered twice during 1928 and approximately $377.00 taken in the two forages.

FROST PLANNING NEW AND LARGER CITY FOR FUTURE

HOMES BEING REPAIRED AND ESTIMATES IN NEW BUILDINGS FURNISHED

Although memories of the holocaust that left their city a mass of broken and splinteres are still fresh in the minds of the citizens of Frost, their attention is now turned toward the future and they are actively engaged in planning for a new and larger city.

Several homes were reroofed Tuesday, and materials were secured for other construction work that started early Wednesday morning. Civic leaders are urging that the residents put fire-proof roofs on their new structures.

Appraisers were still at work Tuesday, aiding in the adjustment of insured houses both in the residential and business sections; several contractors were also preparing estimates on new buildings to be erected as soon as possible.

A group of Frost citizens met with John E. Surratt of Dallas, city planning expert Tuesday night, and heard him outline plans for a greater town. A movement is on foot to widen the main business streets and to adopt a uniform type of architecture for the buildings.

Donations of seed for storm-stricken farms about Frost are still needed Mayor I. A. Sanders announced Tuesday. Those who have good grade cotton seed and seed for feed stuffs are also asked to communicate with Mr. Sanders quoting their best possible prices. The majority of the fields are still too wet for planting.

AGRICULTURAL LOSSES

Destruction in the agricultural area about Frost is compactly shown in the summaries of losses secured from a personal survey made by Calvin Pigg, Navarro county demonstration agent. About six farms remain to be visited, but they could not be reached Tuesday because of high water.

The summary shows that 1563 acres of cotton, 145 acres of corn, were destroyed; five mules were killed, eight injured; 2 horses and 1 yearling killed; 753 hens were lost and 1363 baby chicks; four turkeys and 88 baby turkeys completed the list of casualties. No list was made of the loss of houses and farm implements and no monetary value was set on the loss.

Two additional truck loads of clothes and shoes arrived in Frost Tuesday for distribution to the sufferers, and the work is well under way. Several hundred people have been outfitted with clothing, cooking utensile, food, tents and other emergency necessities.

Checks totaling $43.70 were received by one of the Frost banks Tuesday.

Banks Are Open

Both Frost banks were opened for business Tuesday. The Citizens State Bank is occupying their former quarters which was hastily repaired, while the First National is conducting business in one of the temporary store buildings until a building just to the rear of their former quarters is made available.

The Gulf Refining company also started work Tuesday on their new wholesale station, and were making rapid headway.

Members of the Red Cross advisory committee held a meeting at Frost Wednesday afternoon, with Albert Evans, assistant national disaster relief director, and Edward Transue, who will assume direction of relief work in the Frost area. Mr. Transue arrived in Corsicana Wednesday morning from Denver, Colo., and went to the scene of the disaster immediately.

J. C. Winfield, assistant traffic manager of the Cotton Belt lines in Texas, conferred with members of the Corsicana chamber of commerce and members of the Frost chamber at Frost Wednesday morning in regard to a special tariff on freight going into the wrecked town.

Dentists of Corsicana have donated instruments to the Frost dentist and he will be able to resume his practice immediately.

Efforts are under way to have Albert Evans address the annual meeting of the Texas Commercial Executives association at Plainview on June 5-7, giving instruction in the essential steys in setting up a relief organization in case of disaster.

A majority of the Frost stores enjoyed a good business Tuesday, as the sun came out strong, drying the roads in a short time, and enabling the people to reach town.

A large crew of workmen are continuing their efforts on the power lines, and service will be back to normal soon.

HOUSE FILIBUSTER RESULTS IN ARREST SPEAKER LONGWORTH

WASHINGTON, May 15.—(AP)—A minor agricultural bill was the cause last night of a filibuster in the usually well-regulated house and the arrest of absentee members—among them Speaker Longworth—for the purpose of obtaining a quorum.

Vigorous opposition to the measure carried the day's session well into the evening, and then it was discovered that the chamber could neither take action on the bill nor adjourn, for want of the necessary majority of the membership.

Those present, however, could vote to have the absentees arrested and conducted to the chamber by the sergeant-at-arms, and this they proceeded to do.

Finally enough were in the chamber to conduct business. A motion was put and carried that the bill in dispute be taken up for final action tomorrow, and then the house adjourned.

The measure in question would provide for the expansion of the foreign agriculture information service.

A. M. Gamble, Black Hills, spent several hours in town Thursday.

New Orleans Cotton Steady.

NEW ORLEANS, May 15.—(AP)—Cables were better than due and cotton had a quiet but steady opening, and only one sale at the opening showed a gain of 3 points. Prices continued to advance after the start on trade buying and covering helped by the firm cables and unfavorable reports from the India crop. July traded up to 15.97 and October to 14.77, or 7 to 10 points above yesterday's close. Expectations that the weather map would show favorable weather conditions caused the market to lose 5 to 6 points a little later, but at the end of the first hour the market had rallied slightly from the lows.

The cotton market ruled quiet all morning, but prices gradually eased off owing to lack of support and a general indisposition to trade. July eased off to 15.87, October to 14.60 and December to 14.78, or 8 to 10 points down from the highs and about even with or within 2 below yesterday's close. At mid-session the market was steady but at the lows.

New York Cotton.

NEW YORK, May 15.—(AP)—Cotton opened steady at an advance of 1 to 7 points in response to steady cables and talk of too much rain in the western belt. Trading was quiet, and the advance met realizing and Southern selling which caused reactions of a point or two during the first half hour.

July eased off from 16.32 to 16.28 and new October from 14.77 to 14.73.

Business continued quiet later, and fluctuations were narrow, with the market at mid-day ruling around 16.22 for July and 14.71 for new October or about net unchanged to 3 points lower.

LIST OF PATIENTS IN LOCAL HOSPITALS GROWING SMALLER

With the dismissal of seven Tuesday evening and Wednesday morning, the number of injured receiving medical treatment at the Navarro Clinic and Navarro County Hospital for injuries received in the Frost tornado last Tuesday afternoon was reduced to 26.

Improvement was noted by hospital attaches in the condition of the injured at noon Wednesday and if weather conditions permit, several more will be able to leave local hospitals Thursday.

Mrs. J. E. Hobbs and Lester Beall at the Navarro County Hospital, and Allison Merrill and Amon Cook, at the Navarro Clinic, the four thought to be the most seriously injured, were reported to be considerably improved.

Following is the list of injured in local hospitals Wednesday:

Navarro Clinic.

Cecil Summers, Eva Pearl Cook, Amon Cook, Allison Merrill and Mrs. T. F. Bonnett.

Navarro County Hospital.

Mrs. J. D. Lee, Richard Trull, Mrs. Laura Trull, Hattie Marie Trull, Wade Smith, Mrs. J. E. Hobbs, Mrs. Jack W. Fletcher, E. E. Omberg, Rachael Frances Davidson, Rufus Loyd Davidson, Jack Davidson, Mrs. Loyd Davidson, Lester Beall, and J. D. Dixon.

Colored—Ed Carr, Irene Dyer, Era Ford, Odessa Washington, Inez Tasker, Vera Roberts, Irene Roberts.

Those dismissed are: Berta Pearl Cook, Navarro Clinic; Lorne Bagley, Mrs. Doris Bagley, Mrs. G. Bogan, Arline Bogan, and Mrs. L. O. Ellis; and Joe Johnson, negro, Navarro County Hospital.

Build Storm Cellars.

According to information received here Wednesday afternoon, residents of the Eureka community have been busy since the tornado destroyed Frost constructing storm cellars.

Scores of cellars have been constructed during the last several days.

Grain and Provisions

CHICAGO, May 15.—(AP)—Notable falling off in wheat shipments from Argentina led to early upturns today in wheat values here.

Opening at 1-4 off to 3-8 up wheat later showed gains all around. Corn and oats were likewise stronger, with corn starting unchanged to 3-8c higher, and subsequently continuing to mount. Provisions kept about steady.

Wheat closed unsettled 3-4 to 1 1-4c higher than yesterday's finish.

Dats closed 1-4 to 3-8c off, and provisions unchanged to 5c decline.

CREEKS IN COUNTY CONTINUED TO RISE DURING WEDNESDAY

Richland and Chambers creeks, the largest in the county had not reached their flood crest at noon Wednesday but were expected to sometime during the afternoon. The waters are expected to start falling tonight if there is no more rain. All the smaller creeks have gone down, most of them being back in their banks.

The floods are the result of the 5.12 inches of rain that fell in this county from Friday until Tuesday morning, 2.05 of this amount falling Tuesday night in Navarro county. Much heavier rains were reported on the watersheds of the larger creeks that rise in other counties.

When the water recedes roads in the county will again be passable. Most of the dirt roads are in fair shape, according to reports received here. The Dawson road beyond Richland creek is reported in good condition but the creek is three to four feet deep over the road on the Ward bridge route. The same holds true of the Kerens road which is blocked by Chambers creek. Roane is likewise cut off by highwater Traffic is going to Richland over highway 75 The Frost road is also open.

Thousands of acres of lowlands are flooded and damaged by washing and some cotton will be replanted on the upland sections.

All railroads and interbuban lines here reported trains on time on Wednesday.

A. R. Lipsey, contractor of Highway 75 north of Corsicana had a mule drowned Tuesday when a grader to which the mule was hitched became entangled in a bridge. Th five other mules pulling the grader escaped.

CHARGES INCITING TO RIOT FILED IN COURT AT SHERMAN

FIVE MEN HELD OFFICIALLY AS RESULT MOB VIOLENCE AND BURNING

SHERMAN, May 14. (AP)—Charges of inciting to riot were filed in justice court here today against "Tuck' Taylor of Sherman, Jess Roper and Web Purdom of Van Alstyne, and A. F. Godsey and Tom Reeves.

Like charges against W. M. Nicholson, gray haired Whitewright grocer, and two other men were dismissed.

The maximum penalty on such t charge is two years imprisonment and a $1,000 fine.

Bennett Hogue, 30, of Denison was at liberty on $500 bond on a charge of posting notices threatening negroes. Hogue was charged in justice court after warnings for negroes to leave had been found in several places yesterday.

Meanwhile, Col. L. S. Davidson, provost marshal, announced that military authorities would meet this afternoon with city and county officials to discuss plans for preserving order after martial law had ceased.

The military rule was established Saturday after a mob had burned the courthouse in its effort to lynch a negro charged with attacking a white woman.

"Martial law will be lifted as soon as the military court of inquiry has finished its task unless there is danger of further disturbances," Col. Davidson said.

No Time Limit Set.

He declared he was unable to say when the court would finish its work. It met an hour earlier than usual today.

"We are still working upon the square where the courthouse was burned," the officer said. "We haven't gotten to the negro business districts where buildings were fired."

The officer asserted the court was inquiring into the origin of a report that Captain Frank Hamer was instructed by Gov. Moody not to shoot. "We know the rumor was false and we are going to try to find out who started it," he said. He added that a newspaperman would be summoned.

Another arrest was made by state rangers and held for investigation today. Four brothers and two brother-in-laws from Dorchester, who had been docketed, were told to go home after military authorities were convinced they had nothing to do with the mob violence. A few others of the 33 charged by military officers have been released subject to call.

Col. Davidson said more militiamen would be permitted to go home today.

SHERMAN, May 14.—(AP)—Temporarily turned aside from its investigation of Friday's riots, the military court of inquiry being held here under martial law busied itself today with efforts to discover the authors of warnings posted in the negro quarter threatening the burning of buildings.

Bennett Hogue, 30, of Denison, was arrested last night and charged with "posting notices against negroes, a felony," in connection with the threats. He was arrested by Texas rangers.

After being questioned, Hogue was released under $500 bond to appear later in justice court. He denied he posted the typewritten warnings.

Col. L. S. Davidson, provost marshal, said the court of inquiry was prepared to make a thourough investigation.

Determined to conclude its sessions as soon as practicable, the court held its first night meeting last night, quizzing suspects. State and federal grand juries will be convened Monday.

Patrols in sections affected by the threats were doubled in strength last night and had orders to "shoot to kill" in case anyone should attempt to start a fire.

At least a temporary halt was called in arrests after the total of riot suspects, found principally by state rangers, had reached 33.

A man and woman living north of Denison were brought in by Ranger Captain Tom Hickman and Rangers Kirby, Aldrich and McCoy, but they said the two were not in Friday's mob. The prisoners were held under vagrancy charges, and the officers declined to discuss their case.

Col. Lawrence E. McGee, commandant, yesterday permitted a sizeable contingent of national guardsmen to return home. The troops released were Company L of the 144th infantry, Denison; one platoon of the 36th division signal company, Denison; and parts of Companies F. G and H of the 144th Infantry, Dallas. Col. McGee would not say how many militiamen were left, but there were still more than were ever at Borger or Mexia.

Hamer Denies He Received Message

AUSTIN, May 14.—(AP)—"Any time you feel lucky, come on; but when you start up the stairway once more, there is going to be many funerals in Sherman." This, according to Ranger Capt. Frank Hamer, was the message that greeted the rioters at Sherman last Saturday when a mab first began its attempts to wrest George Hughes, negro, from the Texas Rangers after he had been placed on trial for criminally attacking a white woman.

Commenting on the report that he had received orders from Gov. Dan Moody to protect the negro but not to shoot anybody, Captain Hamer stated he had never received any message of this nature.

He asserted that on the second rush of the crowd toward the courtroom he fired a shotgun loaded with buckshot into the crowd, wounding two men.

Hamer stated that work of the Rangers was seriously hampered by the women and children in the mob.

The Ranger captain reported that he and his men did not cease guarding the negro in the courthouse until after the building had been set afire and the flames had risen to the second floor. He said the flames cut the Rangers off from the vault in which the negro had been placed and that it was impossible to get into the vault to release the prisoner. In addition to this, none of the Rangers had the combination to the vault, he said.

Capt. Hamer and the other three Rangers barely escaped with their lives in the fire, he reported.

Hamer stated that he had instructed his men not to shoot until he gave them the order and that this was the only order issued relative to shooting during the early stages of the riot.

PROMINENT AUSTIN LAWYER WAS FIRST WITNESS WEDNESDAY

FAILED TO FIND ANYTHING SUGGESTING INSANITY IN FORMER STATE JUDGE

DALLAS, May 14.—(AP)—John W. Brady broke into tears at his murder trial here this afternoon when Dr. W. J. Battle, Greek and Latin professor in the University of Texas, swore for the state that in his opinion the defendant is sane and then on cross-examination admitted that it was Brady who fought for his retention several years ago when a "certain governor of Texas" sought to oust him (Dr. Battle) and several other professors from the faculty.

"Didn't he go to the mat for you in your hour of trouble?" Maury Hughes asked Dr. Battle.

Prosecutor Andrew Priest objected on the gronds that "this is no wrestling match, your honor."

The court sustained the objection and Hughes put the question in another form.

The professor admitted Brady fought for his cause.

The defendant, charged with stabbing Miss Lehlia Highsmith to death in Austin last Nov. 9, bowed his head and held a handkerchief to his eyes as the witness gave this testimony.

DALLAS, May 14.—(AP)—Judge R. L. Batts of Austin, formerly in the same law office with John W. Brady, alleged slayer of Miss Lehlia Highsmith, was called as the first state rebuttal witness in Brady's trial here today.

The witness testified that Brady had occupied a desk in his office in Austin for 18 months up until last August. He said his associations with the defendant had been very intimate and testified that he had never noticed anything peculiar about Brady's eyes and that Brady always had appeared well-dressed to him.

Basing his answer on 35 years acquaintance with Brady, his business and social associations, Judge Batts swore he had never seen or heard anything about Brady that indicated he was of unsound mind. This testimony was given over objections of defense attorneys.

On cross examination the defense drew an admission from the witness that Henry Brooks, Travis county district attorney who is taking part in the prosecution, is now occupying an office with him.

W. A. Keeling of Austin, former attorney general, testified of his long associations with Brady and stated that, in his opinion, the defendant is of sound mind.

Fail Break Down Witness.

Defense counsel sought in vain to break down the opinion of Keeling. The witness declined to admit he was not qualified to give a layman's opinion.

Harold Cunningham, Texas university student, testified as to a pep rally the night of Nov. 8, the day before a Texas-Baylor football game and the night before Miss Highsmith was stabbed to death. He said Brady was present and made a speech. He praised the players, the witness testified, and tried to instill that "Texas spirit" in them. He said the speech was entirely rational and gave no indications of being the remarks of a crazy man.

Eugene Cartlige, Austin attorney, after relating numerous associations with Brady in law suits and in social and business affairs testified that, in his opinion, the defendant is sane.

No Relation Slain Girl.

The following note was handed newspaper men by O. H. Sullivan, one of the defense witnesses who testified yesterday:

"Please correct newspaper report that I am an uncle of Lehlia Highsmith. I am no relation. My sister is her step-mother, and she did not rear her. I never saw the young lady in my life."

D. H. Hart, Austin insurance man, testified that he had lived near Brady for some time and frequently had driven him to town in his car. On these rides Brady talked a lot about athletic activities at the University of Texas, the witness said. His conversations were rational and intelligent, he testified. He always appeared well-dressed and never seemed abnormal, nor was there any peculiar look in his eyes, Hart said.

SIX ADDITIONAL TORNADO VICTIMS LEAVE HOSPITALS

Six additional persons injured in the Frost tornado were dismissed from the Navarro County Hospital and Navarro Clnic Thursday, bringing the number of injured receiving medical attention at these two institutions to twenty-three. Those remaining are reported to be improved and several will be able to leave in the near future, it was stated by hospital attaches.

Those dismissed were Mrs. T. F. Bonnett, Navarro Clinic; Mr. and Mrs. Loyd Davidson, Rufus Loyd Davidson, Rachael Frances Davidson and Jack Davidson, from the Navarro County Hospital.

Following is the list of patients in the two institutions Thursday afternoon:

Houston Planning Baseball Games at Night by July 1

HOUSTON, May 15.—(AP)—Houston baseball fans will be seeing the Houston Buffs chasing the Texas League pennant by electric light by July 1 if present plans of the Houston ball club to install equipment for night baseball are completed. President Ankeman announced today that tentative plans already had been made for equipping Buffalo stadium for night baseball.

"We are planning to have night baseball at Buffalo stadium this year," said President Ankenman. "As yet, it isn't definite, but we are sold on the idea."

HIGH WATERS IN NORTHERN PARTS STATE RECEDING

(By The Associated Press.)

Rivers and smaller streams of North and Central Texas were still raging today, although the crest of their flood waters from torrential rains of the last several days was believed to have been reached. One additional death from the storms was reported last night from Lubbock, where a farmer was killed by hail.

The Trinity and Brazos rivers presented the most serious problems, although the Brazos was subsiding.

Gathering impetus from rains of almost cloudburst proportions at Fort Worth Monday night, the Trinity went out of its banks at Fort Worth as it received the onrush of waters from creeks on ts watershed.

The rise ceased there at 7 p. m. yesterday and no serious danger of greater overflow was apparent.

Swooping down the valley, it had flooded farmlands near Dallas and sharp rises were predicted today near Sabine and Neches, in the lower reaches toward Houston.

J. C. Clack, 39, farmer of Levelland, near Lubbock, died last night of severe bruises inflicted by hail when he was caught in a storm as he was working in a field. He succeeded in reaching his house, but died a short time afterward. Houses and property in Levelland were damaged by the wind and hail.

Carthage and Panola county yesterday received more than two inches of rain in four hours, making a total of more than five inches of rain in a week. All creeks in the county were at flood stage, and the Sabine river, rising rapidly, was two-thirds full.

T. and N. O. Trains Routed Via Corsicana

A washout on the Texas & New Orleans railroad between Athens and Cedar creek made it necessary for all trains on the Beaumont division to be routed from Dallas to Corsicana over the Southern Pacific and then over the Cotton Belt to Athens, where they regained their own tracks.

All trains were running slightly behind schedules Wednesday because of high water in many sections of the state.

Rolling Stock of Bus Firms Taxable At Headquarters

AUSTIN, May 15.—(AP)—In an opinion today, Attorney General Robert Lee Bobbitt held that motor vehicles constituting the rolling stock of motor transportation companies were subject to tax in the county where the principal office of the concern was located. The opinion was written to Dick Holt, criminal district attorney at Waco.

WRITTEN DOCUMENT FAILS OF PASSAGE AT DALLAS SESSION

REJECTION CULMINATION OF TWENTY-EIGHT YEARS' EFFORT SECURE PASSAGE

DALLAS, May 13.—(AP)—The general conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, today rejected the proposed written constitution by a vote of 188 for to 205 against. It would have required a two-thirds majority to adopt, and then it would have been necessary to obtain the ratification of annual conferences by a three-fourths affirmative vote.

Defeat of the constitution culminated efforts of over 28 years to write one, the church having adhered to the code of discipline for its governmental guide.

The rejected document had been freely amended during the four days it was up for discussion, and some members of the commission that drew the original draft upon instructions of the Memphis conference four years ago, opposed its adoption in its final form. Notable among these was the Rev. A. J. Lamar of Nashville, Tenn., who had been a member of every general conference since 1890.

Opponents of the draft contended it changed the form of government of the church and if adopted would have plunged the church into factional strife during the next four years while its ratification was being considered by the annual conferences.

Argument Spirited

Proponents countered with arguments that a written constitution would eliminate exising contention within the membership and also that it might be wholesome for the church to adopt the changes that had been advocated in the document.

"If you adopt this constitution you will go away with a church different from the one you came here with," Dr. F. J. Prettyman of Baltimore, Md., told the conference.

He said the government of the church would be shifted from the Episcopacy to the Congregational plan. He attacked the provision giving power to a general conference to indicate the number of years bishops should hold office.

J. C. Roper of Greenville, S. C., favored the constitution because, he said, it would do away with much contention that now exists within the church, and Charles R. Jenkins of Macon, Ga., told the conference that it was folly to take the position that time did not make imperative certain changes in the church's form of government.

EPISCOPACY BODY PASSES CHARACTER OF FOUR BISHOPS

DALLAS, May 13.—(AP)—having disposed of complaints against four of the bishops, the Episcopacy committee of the general conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, today was to continued its review of criticisms where any were filed against the remaining nine members of the College of Bishops.

Bishop W. A. Candler of Atlanta, Ga., Bishop Collins Denny of Richmond, Va.; Biship Edwin Dubose Mouzon of Charlotte, N. C., and Bishop John M. Moore of Dallas were vouched for yesterday, when the committee voted unanimously to "pass" their character. Bishops Mouzon and Moore had been accused by the Rev. Rembert G. Smith of "unwarranted political activities" during the 1928 presidential campaign.

Also Bishop Moore had been charged verbally by the Rev. J. S. Henley of Hodge, La., with activities on the stock market, according to J. H. Therrell of Ocala, Fla., secretary of the committee.

After he had spent more than an hour before the committee, Bishop Moore said he had been questioned about the stock market, but said he did not know if complaint had been made against him for buying stocks. He defended the legitimate purchase of stocks as a business proposition, and pointed out that when a man bought stock in a railroad he owned part of the railroad.

F. P. Culver of Cisco, chairman of the committee, said the matter of passing on the character of the bishops would be taken up in order of seniority. Those yet to be considered were Bishops W. F. McMurry of Fayette, Mo.; U. V. W. Darlington of Huntington, W. Va.; H. M. Dubose of Nashville, Tenn.; W. N. Ainsworth of Macon, Ga.; James Cannon, Jr., of Washington, D. C.; W. B. Beauchamp of Atlanta, Ga.; S. R. Hay of Houston; H. M. Dobbs of Birmingham, Ala., and H. A. Boaz of Little Rock, Ark.

FAMOUS EXPLORER FRIDTJOF NANSEN, DIED SUDDENLY

OSLO, Norway, May 13.—(AP)—Dr. Fridtjof Nansen, 68, famous explorer and humanitarian, died here today.

He was widely known as an Arctice explorer, zoologist, diplomat, humanitarian and author. He recently started new plans to make a dash to the north pole next year in the dirigible Graz Zeppelin.

The death of Dr. Nansen occurred so suddenly that neither his near relatives nor any doctor was present.

For some time he had been confined to his bed with an infection of the leg. During the last few weeks, however, he had felt better and was able to get up again.

Early today he suddenly suffered an attack. His death occurred in a few minutes.

One of the famous citizens of Norway, Dr. Fridtjof Nansen had a distinguished career as an explorer, zoologist, diplomat, humanitarian and author, and while he achieved notable success in all those fields, he was perhaps best known for his expeditions into the Arctic regions.

OVER TWO INCHES RAIN FELL MONDAY NIGHT CORSICANA

More than two inches of rain fell here Monday night, bringing the total since Friday to 5.12 inches and for the week to 7.12 inches. Creeks are again on a rampage and roads in all directions are again in bad shape.

Chambers creek blocked travel on the Roane and Powell roads and the road to Dawson was impassable. Some traffic was going over Highway 75 south and to Frost.

Some of the smaller creeks, including Briar, Post Oak, and others went down during the day but the larger creeks continued to overflow their bottoms. Post Oak creek between here and Powell was reported higher than in years early this morning.

At noon all interurban cars were reported running on time. All Southern Pacific trains from the north were running far behind time on account of high water between Dallas and Ennis and between Fort Worth and Ennis. The lines south of Corsicana were in good shape and trains from that direction were on time. Cotton Belt trains were running on time.

Floods in the lowlands have destroyed several thousand acres of cotton and it is not known how badly the corn planted in the bottoms is damaged. Hill lands are also badly washed and considerable damage has been done to upland cotton.

Some wind and an unusual display of lightning accompanied the rain last night. No damage was reported from either. Some communities reported very light hail.

SENSING GENERAL CONFERENCE TREND WITH CORSICANAN

By J. W. BERGIN

The constitution is about through with—four days have been consumed—and when the end comes, the proposed constitution will not be adopted—and for the reason that the majority of the conference will see when that hour comes that such a constitution as we have have made, will tend to render the church static whereas the glory of Methodism has always been that the dew of youth has been upon her brow, and that she has met the conditions of an ongoing world in a constructive way, and many of us want to perpetuate that youthful outlook and adaptability of our church.

Your reporter was author of the section that is the entering wedge to term Episcopacy which will be in the constitution if it should prevail. Term Episcopacy, that is bishops elected for 4 or 8 years is running strong and gaining favor.

The committee on Episcopacy has not yet made a report on the charges preferred against the bishops. A wet and prejudiced press and wet political lobbyists are not hurting the bishops in the minds of the equal number of preachers and laymen composing the conference. The whole conference understands perfectly well that the wholesale charge indirectly inspired by the enemies of the eighteenth amendment.

There is a growing conviction that we should allow China, Mexico and South America the right to elect their own bishops. This does not set so well with some who have their hats in the ring for that office. If this is allowed that will call for three foreign and likely national bishops—and release that number for service at home.

Your reporter has only made three brief speeches. He largely contents himself in moving the previous question and cutting off long winded debate.

Resident Emhouse Community Will Be Buried Wednesday

EMHOUSE, May 13.—(Spl)—Alf Baker, aged about 50 years, died at his home about five miles northeast of here Monday night and funeral services will be held at 10 o'clock Wednesday morning.

Surviving are his wife, nine children, five brothers and one sister.

Mr. Baker had been a resident of this community all of his life.

Street Cleared of Wall and Walk For New Dyer Building

The wall and protection sidewalk for pedestrians that was erected about the corner of Main and Collin streets, where the new J. M. Dyer department store building is being constructed by J. E. Metcalf and Son, has been torn away, the structure having been sufficiently progressed to make further use of the fence and walk unnecessary.

The new building is nearing completion and the interior work is now going on, and when it is completed this popular firm will be in possession of one of the most modern and handsome department stores in the state.

LAYMAN IS BOOMED FOR PRESIDENCY OF BAPTIST COUNCIL

NEW ORLEANS, May 13.—(AP)—J. H. Anderson, of Knoxville, Tenn., lay leader mentioned prominently for the presidency of the Southern Baptist convention to succeed Dr. G. W. Truett of Dallas, today announced he was definitely out of the race, thereby leading to the belief that the next president would be selected from the clergy at the opening session of the convention here tomorrow. Dr. Truett declined to stand for re-nomination.

The selection of a president seemed leaning toward Dr. M. E. Dodd, of Shreveport, La., or the Rev. John E. White, of Savannah, Ga.

Baptist women applauded reports to the Womans Missionary Union showing that the women had raised $2,963,741.57 in twenty months for home and foreign missions.

Miss Kathleen Mallory, corresponding secretary, in her report, expressed delight over the growth of the Union's membership especially that recorded in the young people's organizations.

NEW ORLEANS, May 13.—(AP)—While delegates continued to pour into the city for the opening of the Southern Baptist convention here tomorrow, a well-defined movement for the election of a layman to the presidency of the religious council today came in for attention among the pre-convention activities.

Announcement of a plan to establish a precedent by elevating a churchman not of the cloth to the president's chair in the convention, was made last night by Dr. William Coltharp Reeves of Hot Springs, Ark., present vice president.

Dr. Reeves, in advocating such a step, said it would do much to promote interest among the laity in church work, and make for better contact among the churches.

Committee meetings and similar preliminary routine continued today in advance of the formal opening of the convention.

WILL PRESENT PLAY

TEAGUE, May 14.—(Spl.)— On the evening of Friday, May 16, in the high school auditorium the Spanish department, assisted by the high school orchestra, wil ipresent "The Belle of Barcelona," a musical comedy. The setting and the costumes are Spanish but the play is all in English.

Heavy Rains Damage Crops About Teague

TEAGUE, May 14.—(Spl.)—Unprecedented rains continue to fall in this section. All crops are being materially damaged, and much of the cotton has been washed away. At least ten percent of the cotton crop of the county has been destroyed, and even the land has been badly washed. Many terraces have been obliterated.

The roads in this section, other than the hard-surfaced highways, have been put in a deplorable condition.

This Sturdy Chevrolet Six 1½ Ton Truck $520

f. o. b. factory, Flint, Michigan
Complete with front bumper, full length running boards and rear fenders

No matter what your business may be, bear in mind when you buy a truck that it's wise to choose a Six!

A six-cylinder engine runs smoothly—saving the chassis and body from the harmful effects of vibration. It is flexible in traffic. It requires less gear-shifting. And it maintains high speeds easily.

The Chevrolet Utility Truck gives you all the superiorities of six-cylinder performance—for it is powered by a great 50-horsepower six-cylinder valve-in-head engine. And, in addition, it brings you all the advantages of modern design listed at the left.

Come in today and see this sturdy six-cylinder 1½ Ton Truck. You can see for yourself why truck users everywhere are finding it wise to choose a Chevrolet Six!

1 Six-cylinder engine — 50-horsepower — combines remarkable smoothness, flexibility, power and economy.

2 Ball-bearing steering offers a short turning radius of 23⅜ feet and assures easy handling in restricted places.

3 4-speed transmission gives ample power for every condition of road or load.

4 Channel steel frame, 6 inches deep, 153¾ feet long, takes oversize bodies without excessive overhang. Chevrolet offers unusually low loading height.

5 The rear axle is bigger, stronger and has spiral bevel gears—is easily accessible for inspection or adjustment, due to a detachable cover plate.

6 Four long semi-elliptic springs, mounted parallel to the frame, carry peak loads with safety, and provide better load distribution.

7 Rear fenders, splash aprons and full-length running boards are standard equipment on the Chevrolet truck and are included in the list price.

A body type available for every business need

Working in close co-operation with the Chevrolet Motor Company, leading body manufacturers have developed, for the new Chevrolet 6-cylinder trucks, an unusually complete line of bodies. Not only are these bodies available in various capacities, but they include many special designs and types to fit the needs of every business.
